JONES 5 & 10 LAW MAKES BOOTLEGGERS THINK, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, March 12.—
Say, this Jones 5 and 10 law (five years in jail and ten thousand dollars) from what you hear around, it's got the whole bootleg industry winging.

The boys just don't relish the five part of it.
They are used to paying fines, but you give them five years to meditate, and they are just doing a little meditating before hand.

They say Washington never was as dry. Course you got to lay most of that to the senate and congress not being in session.

I tell you if Mr. Hoover can get his judges to enforce that law, he is going to change a lot of habits. He's got 'em wondering already.

Yours,
WILL.

Men In Hold-Up Secure Lunch, Oil And Gas Before
Robbing Place

Castle Inn gasoline service station and refreshment place of Gordon L. Peterson, located at Parkstown corners on the New Castle-Youngstown road, was the scene of one of the boldest hold-ups recorded in this district, about 8:15 o'clock this morning.

Three men, traveling in a red colored automobile, held the place up at the point of the gun, cutting the telephone wires and imprisoning the man in charge, two girls employed there, and some eight or 10 school children of the district who were waiting for the bus, in the kitchen.
The money from the cash register, amounting to about $55, and drove toward this city. The whole affair took but a few minutes.

Took Their Time

The three men drove up to the station a short time previous to the hold-up. They secured oil and gasoline, washed up and had breakfast, paying for the service rendered.

One of the girls at the Inn, Grace Kelso, had gone upstairs to secure her coat preparatory to going home, and when she returned to the first floor one of the men was at the wheel of the car, while the other two men at the point of the gun were causing the school children, the man in charge, who was father of the proprietor, the other girl, Miss Tillie Randall to go into the kitchen. Miss Kelso was ordered to join the others in the kitchen.

The bandits had also cut the telephone wires of the place.

Get Away With $55

When this group of people had been herded into the kitchen the men locked the door, then took the cash from the cash register of the place and drove away toward New Castle.
The imprisoned persons managed to break their way out and Lawrence Byler, one of the school boys in the crowd, rushed to his home, but a short distance away, and informed his

Frank W. Walker Is Fatally Hurt

Struck By Train In Yards Of Pennsylvania Company
Last Night

DIES IN HOSPITAL
ALMOST ON ARRIVAL

Frank William Walker, aged 48, 313 Sampson street, well known employee of the Lawrence Transfer Co., died last night at the Shenango Valley hospital as a result of fatal injuries and the resulting shock, sustained about 10:30 o'clock Monday night.

The accident in which Mr. Walker sustained his injuries occurred in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards on the former site of the Atlantic furnace and as far as can be determined, while he was in the act of walking across the yards. He was apparently struck by a draft of cars being shifted about the yards.

He was apparently dragged for a short distance, as his body shows numerous bruises indicating that.
One leg was severed at the hip and the other at the knee.

First indication of an accident was the hat of Mr. Walker found by Samuel Bromley of the Carnegie Steel company safety department, who was watching a crossing near the yards.
He notified the Pennsylvania R. R. authorities. According to the Pennsylvania railroad authorities, Walker was found by a car inspector.

Dies In Short Time

He was carried from the scene of the accident to the west side station of the Pennsylvania railroad by yard employees and cared for there until

AMERICAN DRIVER TO TRY TO BEAT SEGRAVE'S RECORD

(International News Service)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 12.—America is going after the world's automobile speed record this afternoon.

Beach and weather conditions permitting, Lee Bible of Daytona Beach, will take the wheel of the former world champion American car, "The Triplex," and shoot across the ocean speedway here in an attempt to break the amazing record of 231.36 miles an hour established yesterday by Major H. O. D. Segrave of England, in his powerful, torpedo-shaped "Golden Arrow."

Sgrave's new record surpassed by 23.81 miles per hour the mark set on the sands of Daytona Beach last year by Ray Keesh of Philadelphia who drove "The Triplex," a ponderous, albeit powerful car at 207.55 miles an hour.

Federals Massing Force To Attack Rebels Up In Hills

Mexican Forces Center Artillery And Planes For Big Drive

GOVERNMENT IS MOST OPTIMISTIC

Federal Forces Are Steadily Driving On; Make Important Capture

(International News Service)
Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, commanding the federal army of the center in Mexico, is massing artillery and airplanes for an attack against the rebels entrenched in the hills on the Durango-Coahuila border.

Rebel forces in that region have taken up powerful positions in the hills near Torreon from which it would be almost impossible to drive them with infantry.

Another battle is believed impending at Saltillo. Gen. Juan Escobar, one of the chief rebel leaders in the north, is now said to be at Saltillo. Federal airmen who flew over Saltillo yesterday reported the rebels fervently at work throwing up earthworks and barricades. This rebel force stands between Monterrey and the Torreon district, preventing junction of the armies of Gen. Calles and
Gen. Juan Andres Almazan.

Movement Slow
The movement of the federals is slow. When the rebels fell back they destroyed large sections of railway tracks and bridges west of Monterrey, making federal progress difficult.

A battle is threatened in the region of Mazatlan, which is held by federals. The rebels claim that 7,000 men are moving upon the city to give battle to the federal commander.

The revolution in southern Mexico appears to have been crushed completely with the capture or surrender of the chief rebel leaders.

Government Optimistic Mexico City, March 12.—With the federal forces steadily driving forward in central Mexico and the southern flank of the rebellion completely controlled, the highest optimism today reigned in governmental circles here.

Federal troops again encountered a rebel force under General Francisco Urbalejo yesterday and captured 135 men some distance north of Canitas, which was taken from Urbalejo the day before.

In the first encounter most of Urbalejo's troops deserted, but in the meanwhile he succeeded in gathering another small force about him. Urbalejo, who is a full-blooded Yaqui Indian, is again in flight with only a handful of supporters.

Federal troops in the southeastern sector yesterday captured General Simon Aguirre, brother of General Juan Aguirre, and about 600 rebels in southern Vera Cruz. This gave the federal government absolute control in that state.

General Jesus M. Aguirre is still in hiding with a handful of followers.
His brother faces court-martial.

Getting 20,000 In Position, MEXICO CITY, March 12.—General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president and now war secretary, is massing 20,000 federals opposite the rebels on the Torreon front for an immediate decisive engagement which may decide the outcome of the revolution.

Another important engagement is threatened at Saltillo, where the rebels have entrenched in the path of the federal advance. General Juan Escobar, brother of General Plutarco Escobar, is now said to be at Saltillo.

About This Time Of Year—

FEDERAL CONSTABULARY TO ENFORCE LAW ON BORDER LIKELY TO BE ESTABLISHED

By GEORGE E. DUBNO,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A federal constabulary, similar to the Texas Rangers or the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, to be charged with border enforcement of all laws appeared today to be one likely outgrowth of President Hoover's impending investigation of the widespread law violations.

As conceived by its sponsors—and they are both in and out of congress —this constabulary specifically would be charged with enforcing the prohibition, immigration and customs laws along the Canadian and Mexican borders.

Confusion Over Duties.
The chief argument in favor of creation of such a force is the present confusion and overlapping which has resulted from the efforts of three distinct branches of the government to stem the tide of liquor, aliens and contraband which seeps into the states from the north and south.

Organization of a unified border police would mean the abolition of the prohibition, immigration and customs forces now at work according to the plan which has been broached. They would continue to operate although probably in a less degree but leave the larger part of actual enforcement to the constabulary.

Rep. Hudson (R) of Michigan has a bill drawn up which would meet this purpose. It has lain in committee now for over a year without action but Mr.
Hoover's stand for rigid enforcement plus the expected activities of the fact-finding commission he is about to appoint, is expected to bring the measure up for a vote at the next regular session of congress.

Rep. Cranston (R) of Michigan, federal leader, also is actively behind the proposal. Rep. Fish (R) of New York, another legislator from a border state heartily behind the movement.

Proponents of the move believe the President will concur because of his well known anxiety to eliminate waste and lack of coordination wherever it crops up in the governmental machinery.

Immediate action is improbable because of a general desire to await the findings of the law enforcement commission. This body will not even be appointed for a month and so herculean is its task that a final report is not expected until late in the fall. The border constabulary proposal, however, will be strongly urged upon the President's commissioners early in their deliberations.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dietterle of East Washington street, will return from St. Petersburg, Fla., this evening. They have spent the past two months in the Florida city.

OFFICERS SEE MURDER ANGLE IN DISCOVERY

Tony Rossi, Missing Three Months, May Have Been Murdered

SKULL FRACTURE FOUND ON BODY

Rossi's Remains Found In Beaver River Near New Castle Junction

Another mystery was added to Lawrence county's unsolved death list Monday evening when the body of a man, with his skull crushed, was dragged from the Beaver river below New Castle Junction. The remains were identified as those of Tony Rossi, who had been employed by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie commissary department. The body was found near the headwaters of "murder swamp". It is believed that Rossi was murdered.

Discovery of the body was made by Lyle McGahan, of 206 East Madison street and Walter Stone, of 102-Cherry street, who were looking for crows. They immediately reported to Corporal C. H. Black and Private C. C. McDermott of the state highway department, whom they found at Mahoningtown. They called Corporal J. P. Caldwell, who, with Patrolman John Gollis went to where the body was found.

Head In Wash Boiler

The body was found lodged against the east bank of the river. The man's head was stuck through the bottom of an old wash boiler, which was helping to hold him against the bank. The body was face downward and was almost submerged. Remains were taken to the Mahoning Undertaking company morgue, where identification was made by means of papers found in pockets of the decased.

It was first thought that the dead man was Stanley Reznick, the Grant street railroad watchman, who has been missing for several months. The missing watchman had a Hamilton watch and there was a Hamilton watch in the pockets of the man found near "murder swamp". However a search of the man's pockets disclosed that his name was Tony Rossi. This was shown by a certificate from a Pittsburgh company that had sold him the watch on May 14, 1928.

There was also a certificate from

He does not drink,

He is true to his own ideals.
He honors his father and mother.
He is a gentleman and a gentleman.
He is always a gentleman with the girls.

No, ladies and gentlemen, this is not the description of an angel, but of the ideal young man, given at the meeting of the Senior high school Hi-Y club at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening by Miss Elizabeth Milholland and to which some 50 boys of the high school are listened.

Miss Milholand was chosen as the right young lady from the Girl Reserve organization to address the boys on this subject and at their request.

She is a very popular young lady and her picture of the ideal young man shows that the modern girls still prefer a tried and true gentleman and a chivalrous knight, despite all the criticisms of the present era ladies.
Miss Milholand described the ideal boy as she and her circle of acquaintances believed him to be. He must be handsome; not absolutely but preferably, to quote the young miss, which really means that he should be.

He must act as gentlemanly at midnight on the way home from the theatre as he did earlier in the evening; he must not be wheedled into foolish doings by women or men, he must be true to his ideals; he must honor his father and mother and

Air Mail To Europe In Dirigi-

Will Sort Mail In Air

POST OFFICES WILL HAVE LANDING ROOFS

Representative Kelly, Penn-

tion To Care For Growing Needs

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Air mail to Europe in giant dirigibles, landing fields on postoffice roofs and sorting of mail in the air will be the next steps in the government's development of the "biggest air mail system in the world, Rep.
Clyde Kelly (R) of Pennsylvania, predicted today.

As chairman of the house postoffice sub-committee in charge of air mail legislation, Kelly has been in charge of legislation for the building of the present vast service of 23 routes covering 31,000 miles.

Even greater extension of the air mail service lies in the near future, he declared today.

Need Legislation

Legislation will be proposed in the next congress to provide authority for letting air mail contracts to companies operating dirigibles across the Atlantic, and for establishment of "aerial post offices," he said.

"While congress has granted authority for carrying of mail to foreign countries, the rate is not sufficient to permit profitable operation of dirigibles," said Kelly. "I have a bill pending, which will be urged in the next congress, to permit contracts with dirigibles at $3.00 a pound. Some airships, such as the Graf Zeppelin, could carry ten tons of mail."

"While this is not a pressing problem, I believe legislation should be enacted to prepare us for developments which are certain to come."

Faces Big Problem

"We must enact legislation soon to provide for distribution of mail on airplanes, just as the railway mail

Two Suspects In Kidnapping Case Placed On Trial

Father And Son Go On Trial Today At Wooster, O., In Melvin Horst Kidnaping Case

CASE PROVES ONE OF BAFFLING KIND

WOOSTER, O., March 12.—Elias Arnold, 62, and his son, Arthur, 17, went on trial before a Wayne county jury to common pleas court here today on charges of child stealing growing out of the strange disappearance of Melvin Horst, four, from the streets near his home in Orville, Dec. 27. Selection of a jury was expected to take a day.

Five others of the Arnold clan had been indicted, but the charges were not pressed yesterday at the request of Prosecutor Marion Craven. Those against whom the charges were quashed were William Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Bascom McHenry, son-in-law and daughter of Elias Arnold.

The boy's disappearance has developed into one of Ohio's greatest mysteries and unless something unforeseen occurs at the trial during the next few days it will remain just that.

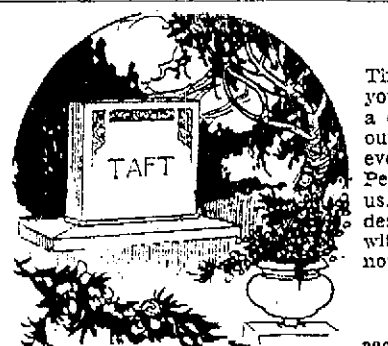

Ora Slater, Ohio detective, who has been occupied with the baffling mystery since a few days after the child disappeared, is expected to be the state's principal witness. It is upon his investigation that the prosecution hopes to be able to prove that little Melvin Horst was last seen being invited into the Arnold home.

It was dusk on the evening of December 27 when Melvin started home across a vacant lot adjoining the Arnold house, according to Slater. Arthur Arnold, it is alleged, called the boy and offered him an orange. The orange has been found. The prosecution plans hope of conviction upon an Ohio law which makes it a felony to withhold a minor child from its parents.

Conservation Of Oil Promised By President Hoover

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Complete conservation of the nation's oil reserves during his administration was promised today by President Hoover.

Asked for a statement of policy at the regular Tuesday press conference, Mr. Hoover replied: "There will be no leases or disposal of oil lands, no matter in what category they may come, except that may be mandatory by Congress. In other words there will be complete conservation in this administration." The president explained there were certain minor parcels of land, notably Indian lands, which must be operated under law.

He apparently retained consciousness in spite of his terrible injuries and was able to give the men assisting him his address and name, and other particulars.

Mrs. Walker, who is in Orlando, Florida, has been notified and is en route here, being expected here Wednesday evening.

Mr. Walker was born in Chicago, Illinois and was 48 years of age. He came to this city when quite young and been a resident here ever since. He had been employed by the Lawrence Transfer Co. for many years.

He had been married 22 years, his wife being Eva Hewitt. Walker has one son, Frank, his mother, Mrs. Lilla Walker and the following brothers, Joseph Walker of this city and Mrs. Joseph White of this city. The body will be removed from the Burke funeral home to the home of his brother Joseph Walker in the morning.

Funeral services will be held from the home of his brother, Joseph Walker, 709 Cumberland avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

will just stay lost about the next time.

Weather permitting, the marble tournament should start soon. Pa. New is of the opinion that boys do not play marbles as extensively as in former days. It has been relegated somewhat like kite flying.

On North Mercer street where some of the residences near the heart of town are jutting on to the street there is a nice old cat who believes in watching the passersby. He sits in the window with one eye open and one eye shut, watches with a philosophic look on his countenance.

Speaking of intelligent animals, Pa. New knows a lady who says that she knew of an old dog who could tell time.

It was one of those farm dogs and every evening came into the house, looked at the clock, and beat it for the family bovines in you pasture field. Smart dog.

FEDERALS MASS FORCE TO ATTACK REBELS UP IN HILLS

from the arena of war, Gen. Calles' army of the center was within 50 miles of the main rebel positions on the Torreon front early this morning. A general action was expected within 24 hours.

Long lines of troop trains, carrying reinforcements and large quantities of artillery and airplane parts rolled northward steadily all night through Aguascalientes, Zacatecas and Coahuila, all headed for the front.

Gen. Calles' strategy called for the concentration of 20,000 troops and heavy forces of artillery as well as bombing planes.

It was expected that, in addition to bombarding the rebel positions with artillery and planes, Gen. Calles would employ about 15,000 troops in a grand assault upon the rebel works. The rebels, so far as known here, have less than 10,000 troops on the Coahuila-Durango frontier.

It was not known here until today that Saltillo, west of Monterrey, is still held by rebels. An official announcement admitted that insurgents were in control of the city.

The army of the north, under Gen. Almazan, which was to march upon Saltillo, has been delayed by destroyed railway tracks, but is expected to move forward at once.

The fact that the rebels stand before Gen. Almazan and the army of the center may prevent Gen. Almazan from playing any part in the battle on the Torreon line.

What Pa. New wants to know is just this—how many people go to work before seven bells and how many don't show up until eight or thereabouts. The streets between 7:30 o'clock and eight are practically deserted.

Mrs. Joseph Minsky, along with many others, has been feeding birds right along. She states that red birds, crows and robins have been in the vicinity of Cleveland avenue for some time and the latter have been there all winter.

Announcement has not been made, with the exception of New Castle and Bessmer, high schools, but it is thought that there will be quite a group of songsters go to the scholastic music contest at Erie. Rumor has it that there are several of the county schools going to send musicians but this report has not been verified. The big musical fest occurs in April.

One of the Pa. New family who interviews the man for the "When I Was 21" column finds that the majority have a hard time remembering what happened in their 21st year.

How many are going to the oratorical contest tonight at the senior high school? This is only the Lawrence county elimination contest. Every high school will have a representative in the contest. The winner will go to Pittsburgh representing Lawrence county. The contest starts at 8:15.

Announcement by Noah W. Elliott, president of the Elliott-Blair Strip Steel Company, operating a plant here, that the concern has orders to insure steady operation at capacity for months to come is a pleasing bit of news to Pa. New and the rest of the New family. While one of the smaller industries of the city, the plant has had a large share in the development of the city, having been one of the steady operating industries of the city for years.

Yesterday Major Seagrave drove his auto mechanism at the rate of 231 miles per hour along the beach in Florida, the fastest time ever made by anything on wheels over the ground. Some of the Pa. New family who are not so ancient can recall when going 60 miles per hour was regarded as about the ultimate in speed limits.

No, this is not predicting the coming of spring. In fact it would be more appropriate to the coming of fall. Nevertheless, Office Jimmy Wyner tells us that yesterday he came upon a crowd of boys on South Jefferson steadily all night through Agassacientes, Zacatecas and Coahuila, all headed for the front.

Offer $10 Award For Prize-Winning Slogan Submitted By Monday

New Castle citizens are to be given an opportunity to aid the newly formed New Castle Booster Club and at the same time be remunerated for their assistance.

The Booster Club is seeking a slogan for their organization. The person submitting the winning slogan will receive a cash prize of $10 for their efforts.

There are no restrictions to the contest and anyone may compete. Naturally brevity will count as the slogan cannot be too long.

The slogan should be printed on one side of the piece of paper and the name and address of the contributor on the other side.

Address all slogans to Slogan Contest, New Castle Booster Club, 9-11 North Mercer street, New Castle, Pa. DO NOT SEND THEM TO THE NEWS!

Would Be Burglar Gets Warm Reception

Schmidt's Cow Doesn't Welcome Intrusion Into Stable During Night

According to the report made to the police last night by L. Schmidt, superintendent of Castle Hill mission, a would-be burglar, or perhaps gentleman hunting a flop, got a real warm reception when he forced his way into the cow barn of the Castle Hill mission.

This man, about five feet three inches tall, middle aged and wearing light gray pants, dark overcoat, and cap, forced his way into the barn by removing the padlock and pushing back the bolt.

He was unaware of the fact that Superintendent Schmidt had a cow and trained yearling heifer in the place or he might not have been so ready to force an entry.

In the dark, the man got against the heifer and it being particular about the company it keeps, let go with both hind hoofs and sent the man against the wall.

He yelled and this attracted the attention of the watchman, Frank Warner, who sleeps in the mission tourist truck, who investigated the trouble. This happened about midnight. Asked why he did not come to the mission and ask for lodging, the man replied that he did not desire to disturb anyone.

He made a bee line for parts unknown, apparently not wishing anything further to do with the mission, where he had tried to stay without going through the regular methods.

AIR MAIL WILL SHOW EXPANSION NEXT FEW YEARS

service distributes mail on trains. This problem is already upon us. Air mail planes now are loaded to capacity. The mail must be distributed at landing fields, causing delay. Distribution aboard planes would save much time.

When the problem of vertical landing is solved we must prepare to provide landing fields on postoffices and on railroad terminals. The greatest delay faced in the air mail service now is in getting mail from the landing field into the city postoffice.

Emphasizing the rapid growth of the air mail service, Kelly pointed out that the original contract air mail bill became law only four years ago, on Feb. 28, 1925.

In 1928, rates were drastically cut by congress, doubling the air mail business. Then came the first foreign mail law only last year and a slight revision in the recent congress.

Within the next year, he said, American air mail planes will be touching every country in Central and South America.

Although the air mail is now losing $9,000,000 to $12,000,000 a year, Kelly predicted that it would soon be self-sustaining. Legislation, he said, has been enacted with this in view.

David Jacobs.

David Jacobs, aged 8 months, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Jacobs, died at the family home, 514 East Long avenue this morning at 7:30 following an illness of complications.

Besides his parents he leaves two brothers, Isaac and Jacob and four sisters, Florence, Helen, Thelma and Elizabeth.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, March 14, at 4 p. m. from the home. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Margeline Kovach Buried.

Funeral services for Margeline Kovach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kovach of 712 East Long avenue, took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Hungarian Baptist church.

The services were conducted by Rev. P. F. Schilling with Rev. G. M. Landis, Rev. Kovach and Rev. Stump assisting.

The church was filled with many sorrowing friends and relatives. Many beautiful flowers banked the casket expressing sympathy and esteem.

Burial was made in Oak Park cemetery and the pallbearers were Mary and May Koch, Anna Koch and Anna Balogh.

Miss Correne Sampson.

Miss Correne Sampson died at her home in Rochester, N. Y., Friday, March 8, according to a message received by friends here.

Miss Sampson was the daughter of Thomas and Sarah E. Sampson of East Shenango township, Mercer county.

She leaves the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Sampson of Nyack, N. Y.; Mrs. H. T. McCullough of Fairmont, W. Va.; Harold Sampson of Lagrange, Ill.; and Irvin Sampson of East Shenango township.

Funeral services took place Sunday afternoon at three o'clock from the home at 23151 miles per hour. Then, after a 20-minute wait, he sped back in a southerly direction at a clip of 231.2 miles an hour, giving him an average two way speed of 231.36 miles an hour. The course is nine miles long. The first four miles are utilized for getting up speed and the fifth mile is the one that is recorded as official.

Segrave raced at practically the same speed in both directions, showing that the wind had little if any effect on his car. His torpedo-like, golden hued machine, glinting in the sunlight, shot by the grandstand at a speed so fast the eye could hardly follow it.

Bible, who will drive "The Triplex", which is owned by J. M. White of Philadelphia, is a mechanic in a local garage. He is comparatively unknown as a race driver. Not until yesterday, shortly before Segrave started, did White reveal the identity of the man who would drive his car in the effort to win the world's speed record.

Low tide this afternoon is at 3:22 and if beach conditions then are favorable, Bible will drive "The Triplex" down the long sandy stretch beach. The consensus among race experts was that the American has a good bet for himself in trying to break the remarkable record of 231.36 miles an hour set by the Englishman.

Doctors Tell Us

Common colds cause more loss of time than any other illness—and they always prepare for the "Spring rush."

We have no grudge against Doctors, but why give the Doctor the price of a topcoat and then have to get the topcoat after you've had the cold, anyway.

They come in a great variety of shades of Gray and Tan and materials of Tweeds, Cassimeres, and Camel's hair. Plaids, herringbones and checks.

Segrave this morning. "I have a better chance in that job yet. My motor wasn't open all the way by a long shot." The tall, blonde, prematurely bald young Englishman with the light blue eyes and rosy cheeks announced, however, that he is "through" with high pressure racing unless "The Triplex" should set a higher mark in its tests this afternoon.

Nature's Balance.

Getting Foreign Trade.

Another Waldorf.

A Boy's Mainspring.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.)

It is dangerous to interfere with nature's balance, one thing killing others, all kept in bounds. Yakima county, Wash., offered a bounty to exterminate hawks and owls, and thousands were killed, to protect game birds and poultry.

Investigation by government experts, examining hawk and owl interiors, found that the birds had been eating grasshoppers, field mice and ground squirrels, all dangerous to man—especially the ground squirrels that spread bubonic plague.

Yakima has withdrawn the bounty. Kill off coyotes and foxes and you encourage a plague of field mice and jack rabbits. Montana made that discovery. The wise plan is to destroy the objectionable creatures by scientific means. Get rid of small vermin and the bigger nuisances will disappear.

How to get foreign trade is an important question for American manufacturers, especially automobile makers.

General Motors' plan is to buy up important European factories, continue their output and graft Chevrolet, Cadillac, etc., on the foreign plant. Ford, on the contrary, starts Ford plants from the ground up.

Newspaper publishers know that it is wise to buy a going concern. It diminishes "local resistance."

General Motors has bought the biggest automobile plant in Germany, and is supposed to have secured another plant in Italy.

If Mr. Sloan, now in Europe, could get Morris in England and Citroen in France, he might have a formidable "General Motors of Europe."

New York's Waldorf-Astoria, soon to be torn down, will rise again, 40 stories high, with 2,000 rooms, on Park Avenue. The building, planned by Schickel & Weaver, architects, will be built by L. J. Horowitz's Thompson-Stanley company. It is proposed, as usual, to eclipse all other hotel construction.

It is only fair to tell Mr. Boomer, who builds the new hotel, that another is planned, 60 stories high. He should go higher than 40 stories. Americans like to live and sleep as high up as possible.

When this writer built the Ritz Tower, 42 stories high, on Park Avenue, it was by far the highest structure ever built for human habitation. Agents and builders said, gloomily, "you will hardly rent the upper stories in the tower. The height will frighten tenants."

The top stories were rented first, before the building was finished, and at a new apartment rental of $11 a square foot.

The new Waldorf-Astoria and the Ritz Tower will look like bungalows, compared with buildings already planned.

Dr. H. F. Clark, professor of education at the Teachers' college, says college education interferes with a boy's chance to earn a living. It sends him into professions overcrowded and robs him of "daring" necessary to success.

That will comfort parents unable to send boys or girls to college. The important thing for a human being is to think for himself and to take his mental mainspring, unbroken, into the world fight.

Any system of education, religion or society that forbids youth to think for itself is a handicap.

At a meeting arranged by Thomas Lamont, Morgan & Co. Dr. Shriver, W. Wayne, New York's health commissioner, started a drive on diphtheria.

Forty-eight diphtheria prevention clinics were opened, and in two months diphtheria deaths had diminished $2.3 per cent.

With use of anti-toxin and the Schick test, diphtheria might conceivably become a slight menace as mumps or measles. The main danger is that children, when ill, play with cats and other animals. Those pets visit other pets and send disease germs to other children.

There will be less disease among children when parents realize that a cunning baby with its face buried in a cat's fur or a dog's fur may have its face buried in disease germs.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:03. Sun rises tomorrow 6:14.

In spite of all the peace talk in the world during the past several years, Mexico and some other unquiet lands have to have their revolutions and battles. Why not sit down on all these petty quarrels?

We notice an advertisement stating that the old paper mill property, the Neshehannock, is to be sold. This is one of New Castle's oldest industries and has at times been a money-maker. This is a chance for someone to boost New Castle by buying it and doing something with it. A large tract of land with valuable water power goes with it.

Sweeping the dust under the bed used to be laziness, now it passes for national morality.

When a ship from Cuba landed in New York one day last week over 200 passengers carried liquor with them and were fined, 75 of the offenders being women. Omigod!

It is said that some terrible things are caught from kissing. We have noticed some of the terrible things some women have caught that way. And then have to live with 'em.

Today is March 12th, the Hints and Dints Man's birthday. For some years it has been our custom to give five dollars to all babies born in Lawrence county on our birthday. Birth certificates presented in this office within 10 days after the birth is all that is necessary. Twins, double and triplets or more, according to the needs of the parents.

We have noticed in our wandering to and fro over this earth that there are many girl athletes, but some of them can outstrip anything when it comes to being on bathing beaches.

SUCH IS LIFE
by Frankly, I'm Blaming
I told her that I liked her nose
And that her cheeks eclipsed the rose;
I told her that I liked her feet
And that her shape was hard to beat.

I told her that her little mouth
Was warmer than the sunny South,
And that the mirror of her eyes
Shone with the glory of the skies.

I told her that her ears were pearls
Of pink and white behind her curls;
I called her "honey" and "my sweet"
And vowed she was a maid complete.

I whispered then, "My only one,
You have no match beneath the sun."
Since then, alas, love's out of tune—
For I forgot the darn, old moon!

It has been our observation that the Golden Rule was never strong enough to assume dictatorial powers.

Mr. Hoover is making himself trouble right at the start by calling a special session of Congress in April. About the only time we can really be sure that Congress is not doing any harm is when it is not in session.

A government official who rules that 20 cents is a fair tip for a waiter may be economically morally and academically correct, but any waiter can prove to him in a single experiment that he is financially, artistically and practically wrong.

The reason Indians are considered lazier than other humans is because there are so few of them that it is noticed more.

A man named Boomer is going to build an even greater Waldorf-Astoria in New York after the present one is torn down, and it is to be about 40 stories high. Boomer seems to be a good name for that chap.

A distant relative is one who has the less fortunate of the family.

There are people who cannot give any reason for not liking some human, and sun it up by saying: "I just don't like the blankety-blank!"

We have often wondered how some musicians would get along while the playing if they did not have feet. The feet are the most active while they play.

CARELESSNESS
Parking of baby carriages, as well as automobiles, is becoming a problem in the large cities. The tenement house commissioner of New York has begun a campaign against the leaving of perambulators in the halls of apartment houses where they not only obstruct the passages but also serve as an actual cause of fires.

Attention was called to a fire started by a cigarette dropped from a stairway into a baby carriage which spread and caused a loss of three lives. There is a warning in this incident that all smokers should heed. The movement against the use of tobacco, which is gaining considerable headway, will be furthered by such fires. Smokers who do not want their little vice to become contrary to law would do well to discard their smoldering cigarette stubs with extreme care and to urge other careless individuals to mend their ways.

In any contest between the cigarette and the baby carriage the smaller competitor is likely to lose. Cigarettes should be extinguished before they are discarded and as a further precaution they should not be dropped in buildings where they may start a blaze.

All work and no play makes Jack for the sanitariums.

A New York lady is using a dentist because he pulled 17 of her teeth without getting the right one. Some people are satisfied to take money for an irreparable injury done them and others insist and do murder the offender, which seems to us is more in keeping with the general order of things as they should be.

It is our opinion that the United States should send enough soldiers into Mexico to clean up the whole nasty filthy mess there. Just sending a lot of guns and ammunition to one crowd to clean up the other will never get Mexico anywhere. They need a good dry cleaning by an expert.

There is one thing a baldheaded man is not interested in, and that is a permanent wave.

If the average traffic cop's observations can be regarded as authoritative a pedestrian must be the lowest form of animal life. One can run across a lot of those sassy birds in a day's travel in any direction.

Correct this sentence: "And if you weren't a poor man," said the judge, "I would sentence you to jail."

The reason there are no commencement in the School of Experience is because no one ever finishes the course.

The reason a grass widow doesn't attract so much attention these days is because divorce doesn't furnish the distinction it used to before it became so common.

Textile report states that a "good demand for clothing is foreseen." The men have apparently decided to stick to the regulation outfits.

Rome was founded in the eighth century, B. C., but it took about thirty-three hundred years to produce a Mussolini.

It is stated a means has been found to put up steel buildings without the awful racket of riveting. Perhaps in time a war will be found to have a trombone player do his act without annoying the rest of the neighborhood.

A Maryland woman has been given a divorce with a cash settlement of $20,000. Her plea was that her husband hasn't spoken to her for two years. Even a woman wants a husband to show some interest in her monologue.

Bridge has taught us concentration, self-control and the art of opening sandline cans.

Alas! Keeping up a front means keeping in arrears.

A professor was invited to dine at the home of a lady of fashion. The day was hot, the wine cool, and the fair partner with whom the professor was engaged in conversation filled the glass as often as it was emptied.

When the company rose from the table the professor noticed to his dismay that he was unsteady on his feet and beginning to see double. In his anxiety to save appearances he retired to the drawing room, where the lady of the house was showing to her friends her baby twins.

The pair were lying together on a pillow as they were presented to the professor. He gazed intently at them, rubbed his eyes and then said rather huskily, "Really, what a bonny little child."

A wife is a person who apologizes to unexpected guests after preparing a better dinner than she intended to give her husband.

We have just read that Americans as individuals owe more than $25,000,000,000. Why not demand an adjustment?

Tempered Enthusiasm Greeted Survey For Nicaraguan Canal

Public Approves Project, But Remembers That It Took A Century Of Discussion To Get The Passage Through Panama

It took a hundred years of discussion and surveying to get the Panama Canal, so the American press greeted with tempered enthusiasm the proposal to survey the Nicaraguan route for another passage between the Atlantic and Pacific. Nevertheless the project is quite generally approved, even by those who hold that actual need for a second canal still is a long time off.

The LOS ANGELES EXPRESS sprays for the Pacific Coast, and holding that "the Panama canal already has proved inadequate," observes: "Because for more than a century Congress has dabbled with the project of a Nicaragua canal, because so many starts have been made that have come to nothing, it will be as well to keep in mind the enthusiasm that the resolution in Congress might be expected to arouse on the Pacific Coast. It is necessary only to go down to Los Angeles harbor to appreciate the benefits of the Panama canal. Nobody can deny that a second canal would bring equally great benefits to both domestic and foreign commerce. But Congress moves slowly."

Advantages in a canal nearer the United States are set forth by the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH in the statement: "Only 21 percent of the traffic through the Panama canal either comes from or goes to ports south of the Nicaragua canal. A day's sailing means $300 to a freighter. The Panama canal cost $445,000,000. It is estimated that the Nicaragua canal may cost a billion dollars. The cost is not important. When we built the Panama canal we neither realized what it would cost nor foresaw that traffic would outgrow it in less than 25 years. So goes the world."

Noting that a survey in Panama joined with the Nicaragua project, the PROVIDENCE BULLETIN states that "while the making of surveys does not commit the country to build the Nicaragua or even to improve the present Panama waterway, it is highly probable that constructive action will be proposed soon after the survey has been completed and made public. That American interests in the Caribbean area would be enhanced tremendously by the construction of another interoceanic canal, of course, be taken for granted," concludes The Bulletin.

"There is a growing recognition," in the opinion of the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST, "not only that the destruction or even temporary closing of the Panama canal by an earthquake or sea attack is a danger that should not be ignored but that the situation in Central America makes immediate action imperative. Even preliminary steps for a foreign-controlled canal in competition with the Panama canal would be hurtful."

As an advocate of the measure, the NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE, nevertheless, finds "no immediate need of another canal," though it argues that expenditure for the survey would be small and that "the motive is not to force a new interoceanic waterway, but that the whole purpose is to take stock of the situation."

The LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, taking account of this survey, adds that "the march of dollar diplomacy in Central America, with the sole object of protecting American investments."

The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL sees an "entering" wedge for what is likely to become a long-drawn-out and bitter battle between shipping interests and railroad interests, and adds that "discussion when the survey is made will be further complicated by the various reactions which may be expected in the nations of Central and South America."

Observing that "the present canal has proved immensely beneficial to Atlantic and Pacific coast States, reducing costs between them and deepening an enormous interoceanic freight traffic," the ST. PETERSBURG PRESS continues: "But the Middle West, forced to depend upon expensive railroad transportation, has suffered heavy losses as a consequence of the Panama canal. Inland business has been deprived of its sea-coast markets. Inland industries have been paralyzed and transcontinental railroads have lost important long-haul traffic, a fact to which Herbert Hoover has specifically alluded more than once."

"There is no doubt as to the ability of engineers to build a canal across Nicaragua. The issue to be determined is whether it will be necessary to construct a second waterway," adds the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS while the EL PASO HERALD comments: "The second canal will cost a tremendous sum and more traffic experts hold that necessity for it is many years away. If the second canal is constructed, military and naval needs will be an important factor."

"It will take time—13 to 20 years," according to the Baltimore Sun, "to build a canal through Nicaragua, a fact that strengthens the hands of those who urge consideration now of the preliminaries of the matter." This paper also reviews the situation in detail. "Having expended $2,000,000 to secure the right to build the Nicaragua canal, it seems a sensible proposal that we expend $150,000 on a survey to ascertain the cost of the project and the advisability of proceeding with it when contention in the Panama canal brings up the alternative of increasing its capacity or relieving it by a second waterway."

"As matters stand," suggests the Nashville Banner, "it is the opinion of all expert observers that the factoring of the Panama passage will be sorely overtaxed before it is possible to provide any other similar connection between the oceans." But the Columbus Evening Dispatch contends that "while the engineers are digging, when and if it finally comes to that, the diplomatic forces of the country will have a task no less important than that of the engineers. It will be to convince our neighbors of the merits that will accrue to them."

GUSSING.
I noticed as a little lad
The teacher when he assents, had
When I knew every little task
And every question she would ask
I never caught the teacher's eye
Somewhere she always passed me by.

But times when I was unprepared
And wished from trial to be spared;
When timidly I looked about Those were the days she picked me out.

It seemed to me as though she knew
The sums I could not reckon do.
She'd waste no time my strength to seek
She wished to learn where I was weak.

I fancy she was more concerned
With finding what I hadn't learned
Than asking me to rise and recite
The things she knew I'd mastered well.

I think she read it in my eyes
When I was feigning to be wise
No sham of mine could get me by
That teacher's ever watchful eye.

And when a desperate guess I'd make My guess was always a mistake
Now life does that with high and low
It seems to sense the facts we know.

House Sidesteps Gasoline Bills; Calendar Light

Little Of Importance To Be Taken Up Today In Senate Session

PREPARE TO ACT ON AMENDED CODE

Much Heralded Move To Investigate Public Service Commission Flitters Out

By C. B. YORKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 12.—With the much heralded move to investigate the activities of the public service commission passed without leaving scarcely a ripple, the senate will convene today at 10:30 with little business of importance before it.

Meanwhile, the house side-stepped any discussion over the gasoline tax bills, at least for the time being, with one bill again in committee today and the second scheduled to be reported on the floor and later expected to be recommended after one or two readings.

The senate is expected to act finally today on the amended administrative code, sponsored by Senator Frank E. Baldwin. Porter. Few vital changes were made in the draft as prepared by special deputy attorney general William A. Schneider. Its passage is expected and it will then go to the house where administration forces will insist upon prompt action.

The Aaron bill which would exempt the "talkies" from the supervision of the state board of censors also may come up for final action although its recommitment is considered more likely. It was scheduled for final action last night, but because of Sabbath observance associations were clustered thick about the speaker's rostrum when the bill was reached. On the motion of its sponsor it was held on the calendar.

Public Hearing Today
At 2 o'clock a public hearing will be held in the senate chamber on the Boyd bill to purchase additional land for Valley Forge Park. At the same time the Woodward city manager bill for Philadelphia will be considered as a public hearing. Another public hearing scheduled is on the Davis bill which would make occupational diseases compensable under the workmen's compensation act.

The much heralded move to investigate political activity of members of the public service commission failed to elicit so much as an official whisper of suspicion during the session last night. The public service commission earlier in the day issued a statement explaining the activity of its members in regards to the Daik R. T. Underhill bill. The senate was jammed with visitors who apparently expected to hear the promised attack on the commission. The subject was not mentioned.

With the Sterling bill which provides for collection from the retailer of gasoline taxes back in committee today, all hope that the house will decide this week on the method to be adopted for collection of gasoline taxes passed.

Talbot Bill Out
It was indicated that some time during today's session the Talbot bill will be reported from committee and will be given one or two readings and then recommitment, postponing definite action on this problem until next week at the earliest. Both bills will be placed in such shape that either can be acted upon finally without delay after a decision is reached as to whether collection should be made from the retailer or distributor. While both bills provide for a three cent tax the Talbot bill provides for collection from the distributor and the Sterling bill from the retailer.

The strange position of the sponsor of a bill opposing the measure on which passage was shown when the bill providing for an additional law judge in Washington county was called up. The bill was sponsored by Representative Moore, Washington county, who fought the measure in committee, but it was reported to the house. The bill was passed finally but Moore was re-elected as voting against the measure he sponsored.

Several Bills Passed
Other bills passed finally included Moore, Washington, fixing the pay of election officers and clerks excepting in cities of the first class and counties of the second, sixth, seventh and eighth class and the Goehring bill affecting marital relations and describing grounds and regulation proceedings for divorce.

In a resolution the house went on record as opposing the action of certain senators in Washington who questioned the retention of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury without his reappointment having been sent to the senate for confirmation.

Under the provisions of a bill sponsored in the house by Representative Brown, Susquehanna power to remove public service commissioners from office would be placed in the hands of the governor. Under a decision of the higher courts during the Pinchot administration, it was held that the power of removal was vested in the senate.

Representative Griffith, Indiana, presented a bill appropriating $5,000,000 from the motor license fund for state aid roads.

Woman Is Given Sentence To Jail

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—A mother of two children today was given a three months jail term because she had in her possession two gallons of moonshine. She also was fined $100. The mother was Mrs. Catherine Tonski, 42, who was sentenced following her conviction by a jury, by visiting Judge Charles M. Culver, of Bradford county.

Expect 2,000 For Caliph Ceremonial

Members From Nearby Districts Gather For Meeting Here Tonight

SPECIAL BUSES TO BRING THROGS

Fully 2,000 persons from various points in Western Pennsylvania are expected in New Castle this afternoon for the annual spring ceremonial of the Caliphs of Bagdad which will occur at the Cathedral tonight.

Most of the caliphs will probably arrive by auto and bus while others are coming by train. Special buses carrying delegations from Ellwood City, Franklin, Butler and other towns in this radius are reaching New Castle this afternoon. Others will arrive later in time for the opening tonight.

The ceremonial program opens at 7:30 o'clock. A banquet will be included in the program tonight. It is expected that the meeting will extend until 1 a. m. tomorrow or whereabouts.

The Caliphs of Bagdad is an organization primarily local, but of late has extended into the surrounding districts of Western Pennsylvania.

Members of the Caliphs organization are marked by the green fez that all members wear.

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—The Allegheny county grand jury today heard the story of the brutal slaying of John Boroski, Tyre miner when the cases of W. J. Lyster, Harold Watts and Frank Slapakis, charged with the miner's murder, came before it.

Three witnesses were called, John Higgins, friend and companion of the man beaten to death in the barracks of Pittsburgh Coal Company police at Imperial, was the first, followed by County Detective Robert L. McMillan and Frank Ritz.

Lyster, a former lieutenant of the coal company police, Watts, a corporal, and Slapakis, a private, were ordered held for the grand jury on charges of first degree murder by the coroner's jury. The death of a miner, caused the introduction of bills into the legislature designed to curb private police activities.

The London Express and other capitalistic papers pay thousands for Trolzky's attacks on Communism.

The truth is that capitalistic "bourgeoisie" is pleased to see Trolzky out of Russia, with more conservative minds leading Sovietism in the direction of capitalism.

One hundred thousand more tractors, 5,000,000 low priced automobiles, 10,000 busy factories turning out a few billions of rubles a year, would soon make Sovietism as mild as mother's milk.

It's sad and hard for Trolzky to understand, but money does make men conservative.

The British General Electric company about owning a stock owned here issues 1,000,000 new shares and won't let Americans buy any of them. Loud protests by American owners of British G. E. and an appeal to the state department.

The British company says Britons will be its customers, so it wants Britons to own its stock. Perfectly reasonable, even if not legal. That is how Henry Ford felt about his British company. He sold all the stock in England at 55 a share. Americans paid as high as $24 to bring it here.

However, British stockholders in the British company are not allowed first chance at the new stock, which is the American plan, and that hurts.

Legion Teams To Make Plans For Drive Tonight

Victory Drive Will Take Place Friday; Expect To Get 700 Members

Preparations For Intensive Campaign Will Be Completed Tonight

Final preparations for the big Victory Drive of Henry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, will be made at a meeting in the Legion home this evening at 7:30.

The general plans for the one-day drive will be given to the team captains and members at this time, and all arrangements completed.

The drive will open Thursday evening with a meeting in the Legion home and will conclude with a Victory Dinner in the home Friday evening at 10:30, at which time the winners will dine on chicken, while the losers will eat bread and water.

The team captains are Paul A. Welsh, Dr. R. C. Lutz, Nick Speed and Wilbur Chapman.

An attractive window display has been arranged in the windows of the P. and O. Electric Co., which will call the attention of the citizens to the coming campaign.

Chicken Fighters Fail To Appear

The 18 men arrested at the alleged chicken main Sunday at the Ross barn, West Washington street extension, and ordered to appear before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton last night for a hearing, failed to appear for hearings and their bonds of $20 each were declared forfeited.

TOOK CATHARTICS EVERY NIGHT

Eating ALL-BRAN Relieved Constipation

Everybody who is slave to cathartics and laxatives will be interested in this letter—

"I took cathartic pills every night and enemas daily to relieve myself and take away the awful headaches I was subject to. Two months ago I started eating a large bowl a year ALL-BRAN with cream for breakfast and today I am in fine condition, better than I have been in three years. My bowels are regular every day. I have not taken one cathartic pill in two months."

Constipation gets in its deadly work when bulk is left out of the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, however, will supply this bulk. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Two tablespoonsful daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and relieved constipation forever by eating ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious recipes for muffins, breads, etc., on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Applications For CMTC Camp Are Now Open

Only Limited Number Will Be Sent To Camp From Lawrence County

Capt. Craig Urges All Who Wish To Attend To Apply At Early Date

Announcement was made today by Capt. M. L. Craig, that applications will be received from now on for those desiring to attend any of the C. M. T. C. camps during the summer.

As the number of applications which will be received from Lawrence County is limited, Capt. Craig urges all who wish to attend to get their applications in early as many were turned away last summer.

The camps will open July 6 and continue until August 4. Cavalry units will go to Fort Meade, Va., which is located just outside the District of Columbia. Field artillery units will be trained at Fort Myer, Va., coast artillery at Fort Monroe, Va., and infantry at Fort Washington, Md.

There are four courses, the Basic course and Red, White and Blue course. The basic course provides preliminary training and takes in applicants between the ages of 17 and 24. The requirements are simple. The other courses are a little harder and the requirements more rigid.

Any male citizen of the United States is eligible to attend who is physically qualified and of good moral character. He must have passed his 17th birthday and have at least average intelligence. A certificate of character from reputable citizens is required of every young man accepted.

Transportation to and from camp is furnished in addition to board and clothing.

Anyone desiring of making application or of obtaining information concerning Citizens Military Training camps is asked to get in touch with Capt. M. L. Craig, U. S. A. Room 422 Temple building, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., evenings 7 to 9 p. m. Telephone 5500-7.

Rebels Holding Two For Ransom

Later Discover Man And Woman Were Victims Of Monoxide Gas

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Henry Hanson, American resident manager of the San Nicholas Mining & Milling Co., in the state of Durango, Mexico, was captured March 1 by 100 rebels at Vozes, Durango, and held for ransom, together with a British subject employee, J. W. Reid, the state department announced today.

A message from the American vice consul at Durango said that Hanson and Reid were reported well at Huejutla and that their release was expected shortly.

Quarantine 485 Homes In 1928

How to Get Rid of Vile Nasal CATARRH

Opex Opens Up Catarrh Stuffed Nostrils in Three Minutes. Lessens Buzzing, Ringing and Singing in Ears and Destroys Deadly Catarrh Germs Says Authority

The thousands of inefficient readers who have tried in vain to find something that actually will drive away every trace of loathsome catarrh, will be glad to know that Opex can now be procured at McKee's Kite Rate Store, who will be pleased to show you how simple it is with Opex to cure and for all conquer catarrh and its stubborn symptoms.

Now all you have to do is to spray thru the nostrils over the entire nose germ infested membrane, this purifying, germ killing vapor of Opex, reaching every nook, crevice and fold in the membrane, as no other remedy can and opening up in three minutes the stuffed up passages.

It seems like a miracle, but after you use Opex a few times each day for a few days you will find that the sore, raw, swollen, tender membrane is completely healed; sniffling and hawking have ceased and the discharge of catarrhal mucus has stopped.

It is worth a whole lot of money to get rid of stubborn catarrh and to lessen buzzing noises in the ears.

Opex is sold for $1.00 with the distinct understanding that if you are not satisfied at the end of 30 days your money will be gladly refunded. Opex is delightful to use because of its wholesome fragrance. Keep your nostrils as clean as your teeth.

It is rumored in the most authentic circles that those young men who can boast of this standard will have their names engraved on the Civil War statue on the diamond.

Women Democrats Are In Session At Lancaster, Pa.

State Federation Of Women Democrats In Session Today At Lancaster, Pa.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 12.—The annual convention of the State Federation of Democratic Women was formally opened here today with an address of welcome by Mayor Frank C. Musser of this city.

Approximately 150 delegates attended the morning session which was occupied with reports of the various officers and chairwomen of committees. Among those given reports were Mrs. Lynn Perry, Easton, president of the federation; Mrs. Harvey Dornblaser, Pennfield, treasurer; and Mrs. J. Campbell Roberts, of Erie, secretary.

The afternoon session today will be chiefly devoted to memorial services for the late Agnes Hart Wilson, daughter of William B. Wilson, Democratic senatorial candidate in 1926, and prominent in state political circles in her own right prior to her death last fall.

The annual banquet will be held tonight and will be attended by National Committeewoman Sadegwick Kistler, Lock Haven, state chairman; John R. Collins, Coudersport, and Mrs. Anna O'Dea Murphy, Scranton, national committeewoman.

Nomination of officers for the coming year will be made tomorrow morning with the election scheduled for the afternoon session prior to adjournment.

Contagion Is On Decrease

City Health Officer's Report Shows Conditions Better In 1928

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE TO COUNCIL

Contagion decreased during 1928, in the city of New Castle, according to a report for the year to be presented by Dr. William L. Steen to members of council in session, Friday. Only 271 cases of contagion, excepting measles, he reports, were discovered.

Typhoid fever has almost ceased to exist and there has not been a case of typhoid for four years.

The water consumed here is kept free from bacteria by daily laboratory tests.

He states that the odor at the city sewage disposal plant has disappeared and the plant is functioning properly.

Relative to the milk supply the city now ranks high among the Third class cities and all milk sold is either pasteurized or produced from tuberculin tested cows.

He states that there are eight pasteurizing plants, 114 dealers and 20 percent of the delivered milk is bottled.

Steen recommends that an ordinance be passed requiring all milk to be bottled to protect it from dust, flies and infection by persons handling it who may have a contagious disease.

Should Inspect Milk Dairies
He also recommends that dairy and milk inspection should be extended to include county farms. An inspector from the department should visit each dairy farm and insist upon the use of sanitary methods in preparing milk for shipment to prevent contamination. He reports that epidemics of typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria and septic throat have many times been traced to an infected milk supply.

The bacteriological examination of the milk supply has been carried on continuously during 1928 and monthly reports have been issued through the New Castle News.

All of the bacteriological laboratory work is performed by the health officer. In addition to analyzing milk, he has tested 219 samples of city water, 105 of wells and springs, 107 sore throat cultures for diphtheria, 10 vaccinations were performed, 114 milk licenses granted and 991 health certificates of employees of public eating, drinking, milk bottling and pasteurizing plants filed.

Garbage Handled Efficiently
Relative to sanitary inspection the health officer reports that 5,877 inspections were made and 170 nuisances complaints investigated. The sanitary police acted as food inspectors and made 746 inspections of meat markets, 427 of hotels and restaurants, 450 of ice cream parlors, fruit stands and soda fountains.

The garbage collection service was conducted most efficiently. There were few complaints because of unlifted garbage. There were 5,458 tons collected and burned and 2,400 loads hauled away by individuals. It was necessary to use 1010 gallons of gasoline and $19 3-4 gallons of oil in the trucks. An average of 9,750 cans of garbage were collected each week.

The municipal nurse, made 247 visits to homes under quarantine, he reported and gave practical instructions and demonstrations of the proper way to handle the patient and prevent infection. The nurse made 57 infant welfare visits and gave instructions to the mothers. There were also 175 observation calls.

Pittsburgh Man Found To Have Valuable Bonds

Bonds Found In Possession Of Pittsburgh Man Stolen In Several Large Cities

IS BUT PART OF CANADIAN LOOT

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Bonds stolen in robberies at Indianapolis, Chicago, Wheeling, W. Va., and in Erie county, Pennsylvania, as well as from the $125,000 Toronto mail hold-up were among those found in the automobile of Amanuel Steinberg, arrested in connection with the Toronto crime. It was revealed here today by detectives.

The disclosure was made after Alexander M. Gibson, Canadian postal inspector, and Detective Sergeant Wilbur Dawn of the Toronto police, who arrived here today, identified $20,000 of the $77,500 in bonds recovered, as a part of the Canadian robbery.

When an Ohio motorist in a touring car, en route toward Butler, reached the point the bandits stopped the car and took it from the driver, leaped in and drove to a halt near the Butler side of Rose Point, where the car was abandoned when the bandits caught fire. The bandits left the car.

The state police armed with riot guns, combed the neighborhood, but discovered no further trace of the bandits. They believe it possible that after the three, who left the last car they used, they may have gotten a "lift" to Butler or New Castle.

Seven Face Arrest For Conspiracy In Big Liquor Ring

Nine In Custody, Officers Search For Seven More Named In Big Conspiracy

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—With nine of the sixteen alleged members of the interstate rum ring conspiracy having been taken into custody, six released on bond and three remained in the county jail in default of bail, agents of Prohibition Commissioner John D. Pennington and the U. S. marshal's office were redoubling their efforts to apprehend the remaining seven today.

Special effort is being made to learn the whereabouts of Archie Negleman of Webster, alleged head of the conspiracy, and Albert H. Seales, another alleged leader. It is said that Negleman has left the country, and that Seales is trailing him. According to Mrs. Seales, her husband has been a victim of circumstances, and desires to find Negleman in order to clear himself.

The ninth of those named in the warrants charging conspiracy was George Gerue of Fairmont, W. Va. The other two in jail are Frank Nabarette and Steve Kovacs.

Among the others who have appeared are Sheriff Arno S. McClellan of Greene county, Edward Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ghenne, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bogdan.

Make 746 Inspections Of Fish, Meat Shops

Seven hundred and forty-six inspections of meat and fish markets were reported by city sanitary police acting as food inspectors to Dr. W. L. Steen and he in turn as health officer submitted their report to council for reading Friday. They also state having made 527 inspections of hotels and restaurants and 450 of confectionary stores, soda fountains and fruit stands.

Judge's Measure Passed In House

House Concurs With Senate In Passing Bill Affecting Judges And Clerks

By ROBERT F. GORMAN, International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 12.—The house today passed finally the senate bill authorizing judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' courts in counties of the Third Class to employ stenographers, typists and clerks to facilitate the work of the courts. The bill also validates former employments and payments. The bill passed by a vote of 136 to 12 and now goes to the governor.

A few minutes before the measure was passed finally the house defeated the bill by a vote of 103 to 38, one less than a constitutional majority. Reconsideration was asked by Representative Davidson, Allegheny, who voted "No" on the first roll call after Representative Menoia, Lackawanna, attempted to have the vote reconsidered, but was restrained from doing so because he had voted in favor of the bill. Representative Menoia stated passage of the bill was requested to correct misunderstandings in Lackawanna county.

In one of the most listless sessions of the year, the house today worked its way through a calendar of bills which contained none of the important measures upon which the house must act before adjournment next month.

The McClure bill providing that the proceeds of policies of life insurance payable otherwise than to the estate of the insured shall not be included in the imposition of tax was passed finally in the house as was the sterling measure providing that appeals in all compensation cases from the court of common pleas shall be to the superior court.

Many Bills Passed
Some of the other bills passed finally included the following: Marcus, extending the time for filing affidavits at defense in the case of actions brought against foreign corporations and foreign insurance companies; Griffith, authorizing the state department of highways to enter upon private property for the purpose of placing snow fences; Williams, providing for the elimination of special forest fire hazards and authorizing the chief forest warden under certain circumstances to declare any hazard a public nuisance; Roger Richards, authorizing municipalities to make contracts of life, health and accident policies for the benefit of employees.

The Sterling bill providing for the licensing of magazine agents was reported from committee today. The house recessed at 12:25 until 4:30 o'clock this afternoon when second reading bills will be acted upon, together with a number of third reading bills which were not on the desks of members when the house convened this morning.

Police Officers Pick Up Boys

Three young boys, Robert Myers, aged 16, Andrew Beal, aged 17, and Richard Williams, aged 19, claiming Punxsutawney, Pa., as their place of residence, were picked up about three o'clock this morning at the Baltimore and Ohio station by Officers Hagan and Suber.

They were overly well supplied with cigarettes and smoking tobacco and Myers had a 22 caliber revolver, which was not in the best of order. They admitted having robbed a store in Punxsutawney and the authorities there were notified by the local police, but as they did not seem to want the young men, they were discharged by the authorities here this morning.

New Castle Lions Club Makes Plans For Organization Meeting At Farrell

S. S. Myers, local astronomer and former university professor, addressed the Lions club today at noon at the Elks club on the subject of astronomy. In his splendid speech, Mr. Myers told of the so-called mysteries of the heavens and carefully explained all phases of the subject.

In the opening of his address, the speaker said that the subject of astronomy could be compared to one's traveling up a beautiful mountain. The further one would go the more beautiful the valleys and landscapes become. At the foot of the climb none of the majestic scenery can be seen. This he said is to be compared with the study of my subject astronomy for the further one delves into the study the more beautiful and fascinating it becomes.

At the meeting today, preliminary plans were made for the organization meeting which the New Castle club will sponsor at Farrell on March 26, in an effort to establish a Farrell Lions club. Just recently members of the club's extension committee journeyed to the nearby town and investigated prospects that certain men of Farrell presented. They reported them very favorable and are arranging for this meeting.

Lion Robert Taylor made known the plans of the extension committee and urged each Lion to make arrangements to go to Farrell on that night. The local delegation will probably leave this city around 6:30 or 7 o'clock that night for the meeting to be held at one of the Farrell churches.

Lion Earl Book also presented the matter of establishing chewing gum machines at points throughout the city. The machines will be set up at various places this week free of charge by the company which will furnish the chewing gum. A contracted percentage of the money taken in will go to the club's blind work committee which in the past year or so has been functioning most efficiently.

Minutes of the board of directors meeting in New York City were read by Miss Margaret Flanagan, worthy historian, and heard with interest by the members.

Plans for a banquet to be held in the Elks home on Monday evening, April 8, at 6:30 in observance of the 50th anniversary of the club were made.

Ida M. Suber, the grand regent, appointed the following committee to make arrangements for the event: Mrs. Belle Nugent, chairwoman; Mrs. Jennie Vailley, Mrs. Eva Woods, Mrs. Mary Krah, Mrs. Stella Melloy, Miss Margaret Flanagan and Mrs. Devlin.

Police Officers Pick Up Boys

Three young boys, Robert Myers, aged 16, Andrew Beal, aged 17, and Richard Williams, aged 19, claiming Punxsutawney, Pa., as their place of residence, were picked up about three o'clock this morning at the Baltimore and Ohio station by Officers Hagan and Suber.

They were overly well supplied with cigarettes and smoking tobacco and Myers had a 22 caliber revolver, which was not in the best of order. They admitted having robbed a store in Punxsutawney and the authorities there were notified by the local police, but as they did not seem to want the young men, they were discharged by the authorities here this morning.

President Hoover To Reorganize Several Federal Departments

Before End Of Present Year
Many Changes Will Be Made In Governmental Departments

Interior Department May Be Changed Into Public Welfare And Educational Bureau

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Hoover plans a far-reaching reorganization of government departments before the end of the first year of his administration, it was learned today.

The change of greatest interest to the general public, it was said, will be the transfer of the prohibition enforcement bureau from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice.

The greatest change, however, would come in the Interior Department, if the President carries out his present plan. This old department would be reorganized into a virtual department of education and public welfare. The plan, subject of course to change without notice, would eliminate the necessity of adding a new department to the government by merely redistributing the present departmental functions among the 10 present departments.

The President probably will have his plan of reorganization ready within a month or two for submission to Congress. At present, it was said, he does not intend to submit it to Congress until it reassembles in regular session next December. The President was said to feel Congress has enough problems to solve at the special session—with tariff and farm related on top—without adding the burden of departmental reorganization. Plan Is Outlined.

The present plan, it was said, would make the department of interior supreme in educational, public welfare and soldier matters. It would involve the transfer into the interior department of the United States Veterans Bureau, the federal board for vocational education, the national home for disabled soldiers, and the United States Soldiers' homes. The pension bureau, the Indian affairs bureau and the bureau of education would be retained, with the latter broadened in scope.

Many present functions of the interior department meanwhile would be transferred to other departments to keep it from getting too heavy, under the present plan. The bureau of reclamation, the national park service, the general land office and the geological survey would be transferred, probably all into the department of agriculture, though possibly into the commerce department.

This reorganization would leave the agriculture department handling all land matters, the interior department handling human affairs.

The selection of Doctor Ray Lyman Wilbur, noted Stanford university educator, as his secretary of interior has been looked upon by administration leaders as an indication of the president's plans.

Dr. R. W. Cotton of McKees Rocks, showing that "Tony" Rossi had been examined by him and had been found free from tuberculosis, or any contagious disease. Several other papers in the man's pockets, established his identity, beyond a doubt. The papers disclosed that he had been employed at a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Construction camp at McKees Rocks previous to coming to New Castle Junction.

the left eye, indicating that the man had been struck with some instrument, or had fallen. Officials are not inclined to believe that the injuries were inflicted by a fall, but believe that the man was murdered and thrown into the river. The wash boiler which was about his neck may have been used in an effort to sink the body, or his head may have jammed into it as the body floated down the river.

One of the peculiar features of the case is the similarity of injuries to those of Charles Porbon who was found in a box car at New Castle Junction on February 15. Porbon had received a blow over the left eye with some blunt instrument. Rossi's injuries were in the same place, although the fracture was more pronounced.

Find Clerk Is Missing

Following the receipt of the information of the finding of the body, Sergeant J. P. Steiner got in touch with the office of Sheriff H. M. Reynolds, the County Detective William G. Fleming and Lieutenant Ed. Harriott, of the P. & L. E. police at McKees Rocks.

From the latter came the first possible solution of the identity of the man found in the waters of the Beaver river.

Lieutenant Harriott stated that they had had a commissary clerk at New Castle Junction, who had disappeared and never been found. That was several months ago, he said.

There was the trail to the P. & L. E. commissary and bunkhouses at New Castle Junction. Detective John Young going to the scene accompanied by Officer Ray Thompson.

There with the co-operation of the present commissary clerk, John Millerati, Detective Young secured information from a book used in checking out men who quit suddenly, that Rossi had been in charge up until the sixth or seventh of last November. His signature was found to that date in the book and the next new signature was on a sheet dated November 14.

Make Identification

Millerati thought he could identify the body as did Edward Hollenback, another employee of the P. & L. E. housed at the junction bunkhouses and these men were taken to the Mahoning Undertaking rooms on West Madison avenue, where they viewed the body.

Each of these men was positive that the body found was that of Rossi. They stated that he apparently had been getting along all right with the men, although they were not at the local place, when he disappeared.

They said he did like to play cards. Millerati stated that the newly cleaned summer suit of Rossi, also some shirts, etc., a suitcase and an overcoat were still at the commissary where he had left them the night he disappeared. He had borrowed the overcoat of another fellow employee when he went out, not wearing his own. A bank book was also found. Millerati said, which showed deposits of $200 in a local bank. There was possibly another bank book, he said. These were in charge of the big boss "Patsy" who would be out today from the main office in McKees Rocks.

Reported Missing November 11
On returning to the police station, Detective Young looked up the reports there and found a report dated November 13, telling of the disappearance of Rossi on November 11, also about his local bank book and other details.

Information gained from the P. & L. E. headquarters in McKees Rocks and verified at the office of Sheriff H. M. Reynolds and at the office of Alderman H. G. Coates, showed that Rossi had been arrested while at the commissary on a liquor charge. This was on September 8, 1928.

On September 11, he was at the office of Alderman Coates, where he arranged for a cash bond of $1,500 for his appearance and the case was continued, that is he or friends put up $1,500 bail to a friend, who then gave the bail. For some reason, apparently because of the fact that he was never available when wanted or something of that kind, no hearing was ever held and the case never progressed beyond the alderman's court.

If the cash furnished the friend for bailing him was his, there is the question of whether or not this would not now belong to his estate.

In addition to the investigation conducted by the coroner and city police, the sheriff and county detective are also engaged in looking over the situation.

Positive identification of Rossi was made this morning by Patsy DeVito, who was well acquainted with Rossi. DeVito also identified the watch and chain belonging to Rossi.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, who had been employed to defend Rossi in a case before Alderman Coates, turned over to the sheriff J. P. Caldwell a bank book, which Rossi had given him for safe keeping. The book showed that Rossi had $200 in the savings department of the Mahoning Trust company.

Such after the case was brought before Alderman Coates, DeVito says that Rossi disappeared. DeVito sent a picture of Rossi and also of his sister to a Cleveland newspaper, asking that the pictures be published in an effort to locate the sister who is in Cleveland. DeVito says that Rossi is supposed to own property in Cleveland.

Croton W. C. T. U.

Monthly meeting of the Croton W. C. T. U. took place Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Cook, 400 Croton avenue with 19 members present. Mrs. Jess Hinkson, Mrs. C. F. VanHorn and Mrs. J. B. Young were elected as new members.

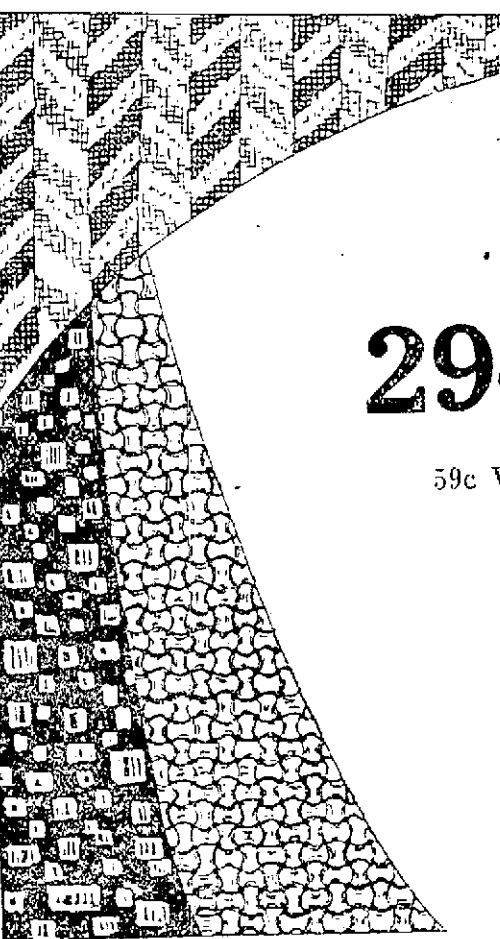

Following the devotional period, led by Mrs. Edward Mitchell, a paper was read by Mrs. E. C. Morrow on kindergarten work. "The Right to the Cradle" was discussed by Mrs. Anne Williams.

The following report was made: 131 calls, 82 glasses of jelly, four jars of fruit, $15 expended for fruit and vegetables, five bouquets, $13.50 received.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Morrow. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mollie Korbman at Federal street.

State Medical Association Will Not Give Consent

Refuses To Accede To Request Of Head Of Chiropractor's Association

International News Service
HARRISBURG, March 12.—The Pennsylvania Medical Association, through the chairman of its legislative committee, today refused to accede to the request of the Pennsylvania Chiropractors Association to assist in urging the senate and house committees on health and sanitation to hold a public hearing on the Free-Trade bill to license chiropractors and also entered refusal against the chiropractors' invitation to have members of the medical group address meetings which the chiropractors are planning throughout the state.

Dr. Paul Correll, Easton, chairman of the Medical Association's legislative committee, conferred today with Dr. Blanch R. Young, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the board of governors of the Chiropractors Association as the result of a letter sent to Dr. Correll by Dr. Young last week.

As a result of the action of the Medical Association, Dr. Young announced that public meetings would begin immediately, the first to be held tonight in Sunbury. Another meeting will be held Thursday night at New Kensington when provisions of the Free-Trade bill will be discussed and efforts made to impress upon members of the senate the sentiment of the folks back home.

BEYOND HIM
It had been pouring all day, and the man sitting alone in a corner of the club smoking room looked miserable. Another member went up to him.

"Hello, old man," he said, "sorry to see you so fed up. Why don't you go and drown your sorrow?"

"My dear chap," answered the other, wearily, "she's inches taller than I am."

Seventh Ward Store Reports Robbery Poultry Raisers Meeting Today

Tommy Quarts, 533 West Cherry street, on Monday reported the theft of some canned goods from his place. Some of it, valued at about $1 was found in the shanty along the P. & L. Recover Bonds Alleged Stolen In Mail Robbery

Officers Arrest Man In Pittsburgh With $77,854 In Stolen Bonds

CANADIAN TRAIN ROBBED AT TORONTO

(International News Service.)
PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Bonds valued at $77,854 part of the $125,000 loot of a Canadian mail-train robbery at Toronto, in 1928, were recovered here this afternoon with the arrest and alleged confession of Maurice Steinberg, 33, film salesman, theater owner and alleged "forger." Detective Inspector Frank Boyd revealed.

The bonds were found in Steinberg's auto after he had been arrested in a film exchange, according to the sleuths.
With Steinberg's arrest, city detectives renewed their search for William Beven, alleged leader of the Buffalo gang that is accused of looting the mail train as it pulled out of the Toronto station. Beven was thought to be in Pittsburgh.

Two others "Poppy" Davis and Catherine Meyers, 26, both of Pittsburgh, were arrested in an apartment here last week in connection with alleged attempt to sell the bonds.
They are being held.

The bonds are on the Canada Loan company, Wheeling Steel company, City Trust company of the Commonwealth of Austria, Tokio Electric Limited, London-Canadian Investment company and others.

Sleuths: The detectives charged Beven with $150,000 in bonds from the loot by a man they identify as Morris Hendel who so far has evaded traps laid for him. The sleuths have not yet established whether their prisoner had succeeded in selling some of the bonds.

The first tangible clue to the gang came from a Buffalo brokerage, which Hendel asked to dispose of $11,000 in bonds, the detectives said.

Another little noted blessing of education is that it gives parents a rest during the day.

Stubborn Persistent INDIGESTION

If you are one of the unfortunate men or women who suffer torment from terrible—sometimes almost suffocating indigestion—that nothing seems to relieve, here's a fair and square offer you ought to accept.
Thousands just as badly in need of the right kind of medicine have blessed the day they accepted it.

Go today to McKee's Kut Rate
Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., Love & Megown or any druggist in America—one who keeps abreast of the times—and get one bottle of Dare's Menta Pepsin. Take it as directed and if it doesn't do you more good than anything you ever tried—get your money back—without comment.

One bottle will show sufferers from stubborn indigestion that here is a pleasant way to take pills that will put rebellious distressed stomachs in splendid shape and make them so strong and sturdy that you can enjoy your meals without irritation or distress.

Choruses Rehearse For Spring Festival

Humorous Choruses Are Now Being Rehearsed By Singers

As the date for the annual concert of the New Castle Festival Choral society which will be given in the Cathedral the latter part of April or the first of May under the direction of Prof. Paul Browne Patterson, the enthusiasm increases. Last night's rehearsal disclosed the fact that most of the heavier choruses are ready and the remaining rehearsals will be devoted to the learning of the new humorous numbers "Jack Horner" and "The Frog Singing School."

The chorus made rapid progress last evening in learning the frog language and incidentally got much fun out of the experience.
While the greater part of the chorus consists of non-professional singers, just folks who love to sing, there are many trained singers and instrumentalists in this year's chorus. The appearance before the chorus each Monday evening of members selected from the latter group, a custom inaugurated by the director, Mr. Patterson, is proving more and more popular.

Last evening during the ten-minute recess period, Miss Erma Blythe, soprano, and Mrs. Horace Evans, a newcomer to New Castle and a graduate pianist of the London Royal Academy of Music, gave attractive solos.

To date the entertainers appearing during the recess period have been of high and varied types and have given both entertainment and instruction.
Those who have appeared this session are William McComb, W. A. Wom-er and Arthur Thomas, tenors; Miss Frances Gibson, Mary Blocher and Dorothy Kimes, soprano; Rebecca Garvin, contralto; Mr. Shields, artist, in a demonstration of how pictureesque are created; Mr. Eakin in an illustrated talk on the construction of a victulin; Cliff Thomas and W. P. Williams appeared as readers.

Next Monday evening the soloist will be Mrs. B. K. Thacker, soprano.
The drive to increase the membership of the Festival chorus to 300 will continue another week. All who believe in building up a great choral organization are asked to become members.
Those who are untrained will receive training. Call Miss Cora Hitchcock at the Y. W. C. A. for particulars.

"My Friends And I Were Scared"

Effective Way Found to Break Up
This Long-Standing Cold

"Last fall I caught a heavy cold that settled on my lungs. No medicine I used seemed to help it any. I began to lose weight, and I coughed a great deal. My friends and I were scared.

"One old neighbor brought me over a half a bottle of World's Tonic. She said I needed strength to throw off the cold, and she called World's Tonic
"bottled energy." More to please her than anything else, I took it as directed. That half bottle helped me wonderfully, and the next bottle cleared up the cough. After three bottles I began to gain weight, and all symptoms of the cold disappeared. I never knew a medicine so effective."
Mrs. Myers of 422 Vine St., Sharon.

Sensible in All Illnesses

World's Tonic is not a specific for colds, but it broke up that cold by the same thing it does for any illness. It cleared away the impurities in the blood, enabled this blood to kill off the germs, and supplied just what the system needed to gain strength. Because it is so effective in chronic catarrh, in this case it was equally effective in acute catarrh.
An illness hangs on because of weakness. Correct that weakness with World's Tonic, and your strength will help greatly to overcome the disease. World's Tonic is sold by Mc-Kee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eck-erd's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's and other good druggists.

Jury Hears Details Of Shooting In Wampum

County Detective Tells Of Statements Made By Mrs. Moore After Shooting

Jury Is Completed And Case Started Early Monday Afternoon

Completion of the task of selecting a jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Bessie Moore, charged with the murder of William Jones, was returned as court convened Monday afternoon and the three necessary jurors were selected within a half hour. They were Richard Boushman, 4th ward, Oliver Kerr, clerk, Hillsville, and Roy McCutcheon, mill worker, Ellwood City.

The prosecution first called Dr. F. W. Guy, who had performed the autopsy on the dead man. He described the bullet wound which had proved fatal to Jones, and which had penetrated the chest cavity, just above the heart.

Leslie Wilson, civil engineer, was called as a witness and produced a map of the home where the shooting is alleged to have taken place, bringing out distinguishing spots about the home which were later referred to in the testimony.

David M. Marshall, undertaker of Wampum, told of the body being removed to his undertaking rooms and being prepared for burial.

Tells of Shooting

Armstrong Frenzy, colored of Koppel, who was in the Jones home when Jones was shot and killed, related incidents which led up to the shooting.

He stated that he had come to Wampum to attend a funeral and after the funeral, had gone to the Jones home with Robert Haines. He stated that they had been sitting in the home, while the Jones children played the phonograph. Shortly afterwards, Jones came in, and they danced a bit. Bessie Moore left and went to her room, followed shortly afterwards by Jones. The children were still playing the phonograph, when he heard several shots ring out. Jones came running out, the witness testified, going through the dining room where they were sitting, and then out onto the porch, where he collapsed. He immediately ran to the home of a Mr. McConahy, whom he knew to be an officer, to tell of the shooting. When he returned, he stated that the state police had arrived, and had placed the body on a bed.

Frenzy, stated on cross examination by Attorney McCracken, that she had not denied the shooting, admitting to the state officers, that it was she who had fired the fatal shot.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell, testified to being called to Wampum on the night of February 17, and to having found the body of William Jones, lying upon a bed in his home, shot through the heart.

Raymond Talley, deputy constable of Wampum, testified to being called to the home of Jones, by the report that a murder had been committed. He said he found the body of Jones lying on the porch, just off the kitchen, and that Bessie Moore had said to him, "You don't need to look for anyone, 'cause I did it."

Talley told of helping to place the body of Jones on a bed in the house, and of then taking the Moore woman to the county jail, in company with Constable John Martin. He said that she had told him that Jones had been "doing her," and that she shot him. Coming to New Castle to place her in jail, Talley said that he had asked her what she meant by her statement, and that Jones had been "doing her," and she replied that she meant he had been going with other women.

He was cross-examined by Attorney McCracken, who brought out the fact that he had not told her that any statement she made to him might be used against her as testimony.

County Detective William Fleming was next called. He produced a 32-calibre automatic pistol, with which the shooting is alleged to have been done, and identified it as one which had been given to him on the night of the shooting.

Tells of Woman's Statement
He stated that he had talked to Bessie Moore, the day following the shooting, at which time she dictated a story of the circumstances surrounding the alleged murder. He stated that she had been informed of the fact that what she said would be used against her as evidence and that she was cognizant of the fact and told her story willingly.

She said that they had attended a funeral together, and that after they had come home, that she had lain down on her bed, while Jones went out. She awoke some time later and asked one of the Jones children where their father was, and that he had told her, he did not know.

Suspecting that he was at the home of Mamie Stewart, she said she had gone there and inquired for him, and was told by someone in the house that he was not there. She said she went around to the other side of the house and saw him, standing with his back toward her. She had an argument with him there and she left and returned home, telling him that she would never come out to look for him again, if he was dying or was dead. She told Detective Fleming that she was quite angry with him at the time, because he had promised her that she could "shoot" him dead, if he ever had anything to do with any other woman. She said that she had also promised him the same thing and that both of them had agreed to stay away from Mamie Stewart.

Follows Her Into Room
After they had returned home, she said he followed her into her room, and had demanded to know what business she had of looking for him. She said he struck at her and that she had fallen back on the bed to keep from being hit. She said he then threatened to "stomp" her and had struck at her again. By this time, she told Detective Fleming that she was mad and that she had gone into the front room and gotten a revolver out of a satchel there. He followed her and she shot at him. He grabbed a chair, she averred, and she shot again. Then he dropped the chair and went out. She laid the gun on the bed in her room and after a little while, he came back in again and went after her. She then got the gun and shot again. Then she left. She said she heard one of the kids say, "Miss Bessie have shot poppa."

She said that the first two times that she had shot, she was not angry, but the third time, she had shot to kill.

On cross examination, Attorney McCracken brought out the fact that she had told Detective Fleming that they had made an agreement that if either of them went wrong, they could shoot each other dead.

It was also brought out, that seven empty shells had been found in the home, although there were but five bullets accounted for.

Witnesses had only testified to there being four shots fired. From the nature of the cross-examination by the defending attorneys McCracken and Letz, it is believed that the defense will attempt to prove that the shooting was done entirely in self defense.

Court adjourned until Tuesday morning.

H. J. Colton Of Bessemer Named In Charge Of News Pertaining To Music Contest

H. B. Colton, supervising principal of the Bessemer schools, has been appointed chairman of news concerning the northwestern Pennsylvania scholastic music contest, which is scheduled to occur in Erie during April. The appointment was made at the recent meeting of school principals which took place at Greenville.

At this meeting, states Mr. Colton, details concerning the prize awards were made and various rules pertaining to eligibility in the sectional contest were made.

The following prizes and rulings were authorized:
First prize, a silver plaque; second prize, a gold-bronze plaque; third prize, small bronze plaque; small bronze plaque for award in case of only one entry; first prize only in any event with but two entries; first, second and third prizes in a contest with five or more entries, and first and second prizes only in any event with three or four entries.

The school receiving the most points in any of the three classes will receive a silver loving cup valued at not less than $25 and properly inscribed, according to the plans.

According to reports, New Castle High school will send 200 pupils to the contest, and Bessemer High school 100. Both of these Lawrence county schools were winners in last year's contest at Grove City.

Erie Academy High school will be host to the district schools this year.

ONE WORD FROM WIFE WILL SEND HUSBAND TO JAIL
UNIONTOWN, March 12.—One word from Mrs. Nora McBride will send her husband to jail for a long term.

At Monday's session of court, Dan McBride of Grant street, was released when he promised never to take another drink of intoxicating liquor. His wife agreed to act the part of informant, and if taken a drink his wife will immediately report the matter to the court and into the jail house friend husband will go.

The whole trouble started when Dan failed to provide a living for Mrs. McBride and her four kiddies. He would have been sent to jail for a long period had not the wife agreed to accept the position of informant. The husband was given 60 days in which to pay the costs.

Mrs. E. R. Welch Placed In Charge Of New City Collection Department

Some 400 New Castle merchants, all affiliated with the Credit Exchange here, have inaugurated a new collection system, according to the statement of Ray F. Hall, manager of the exchange.

The local exchange board of directors has been working on the collection system as a part of the bureau here for some time and on Monday the new system was formally put into effect.

Mrs. E. R. Welch, formerly an accountant in a large Pittsburgh, Pa., business concern, has been placed in charge of the collection bureau.

The bureau is located at the present location of the New Castle Credit Exchange in the Greer building and all business will be transacted from that place.

The collection plan as devised by the merchants, states Mr. Hall, will investigate every case where delinquency is found. Should unavoidable circumstance be found the case of any back payments, then credit will remain good.

The new system is in fact a fair-minded idea on the collection business and both merchant and the debtor are benefited.

Old Ship's Career Ends In Ignominy

(International News Service)
BOSTON, March 12.—Although her decks once resounded to the tread of royal feet and her beams vibrated to the roar of guns during the war with Spain, and again in the World war, the romantic career of the steamship Yankton ended in ignominy—her hold half filled with bilge water in Dog-chester bay.

Like some hero of fiction that scaled the heights only to drop to the lowest run of life's ladder, was the old drawn in the history of the old maritime lady.

Built in Leith, Scotland, in 1893, the vessel was christened "Penelope".

A short time later the vessel was purchased by the late Sarah Bernhardt, world famous tragedienne and renamed Cleopatra. The French actress then made a gift of the ship to King Edward VII of England, and the highest pinnacle in the checked history of the ship was reached.

Then the late Col. Harry E. Converse of Malden acquired the Cleopatra and her cognomen was changed to Sapphire.

When the United States was at war with Spain in 1898 the Sapphire was purchased by Uncle Sam, who converted her into a gunboat, called her the Yankton and put her into active service.

In the World war, the Yankton cooperated with the allied fleets against German submarine U-boats in the Mediterranean.

In 1921 she was mustered out and sold to private interests.

Two years later the Yankton again appeared, this time in the guise of a rum-runner operating under the Union Jack of Great Britain.

Finally she surrendered to federal authorities and was sold at marshal's sales with varying owners following.

Two Suspects In Ambridge Robbery Are In Custody

Part Of $3,000 Loot Turned Over To Police By Mother Of One Of Suspected Thugs

(International News Service)
AMBRIDGE, Pa., March 12.—The robbery of the Ambridge Gas company of $3,000 Saturday afternoon has been solved and a portion of the loot recovered, according to police here today. James Howard and Harry Moose, who live within two blocks of the gas office, are the suspects. They are in the Beaver county jail at New Brighton.

Mrs. Howard, police declare, turned over a portion of the $3,000. They also claim to have learned that Howard sent three $100 money orders to Washington, D. C. shortly after the robbery on Saturday.

A parked car, identified by police as the vehicle used in the getaway, standing in front of the house led to their arrest, it is said.

The holdup occurred Saturday shortly after noon. One of the thugs shot A. D. Pew, manager, when he attempted to escape. The wound was in his forearm and is not proving serious.

Health Week Plan Will Reach Adults

HARRISBURG, March 12.—The bureau of public health education of the State Health Department reported to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, today that requests are being received from organizations and officials for assistance in formulating plans for a "keeping fit week." Altoona and Coatesville have their programs practically completed for this observance.

Commenting on this report, Doctor Appel said: "For a number of years the children in Pennsylvania have occupied the main position on the stage in health celebrations, notably during the May day health week. It is a progressive sign of the times that in addition to the young people, the adults are now becoming interested in their own physical welfare. Advising the public regarding fundamental health rules by way of keeping of a fit celebration in localities throughout the Commonwealth is a fine step forward."

French Losing Ground With South Americans

(International News Service)
PARIS, March 12.—French as a universal language in South America is losing ground, according to Claude Regaud, professor at the Pasteur Institute.

He bases his fear on the fact that religious emissaries from France, who also serve as instructors of language, are rapidly decreasing in number.

"Those who die are being replaced by Spaniards, Italians, Germans and Anglo-Americans," he says. "The moment is approaching when our language will only be represented by a few Belgians and Canadians."

Refuses To Act In Religious Film

(International News Service)
PARIS, March 12.—Communism scored its first blow against the Protestant movie industry when a Red actress refused "to go to church" in a religious film.

An altar scene had been set, and Klieg lights turned on. As the director called "camera" the actress dashed from the scene into her dressing room.

"I believe in the Soviet and therefore cannot even consent to make-believe religion," she explained.

"It's too bad because you have a good camera face," sighed the director in charge.

Compile Reports On 1928 Industry

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Thousands of reports from Pennsylvania

manufacturers covering 1928 industry are being examined by the bureau of statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs. Approximately 25,000 reports are received annually. Delinquents are now being notified to return their reports so that tabulations of industry in the various counties can be completed earlier than usual this year. Final notices are being sent to the delinquents and failure to comply makes them liable to penalties under the law governing the collection of industrial statistics.

As soon as completed by the bureau received from the various counties tabulations of these counties will begin. Following the completion of county tabulations state totals will be compiled.

Reports received from manufacturers covering information regarding the production valuation during the year, the number of employees, male and female labor, salaries and wages and capital invested. In addition to tabulating industry in the counties, separate surveys are made in about 100 cities and boroughs in the Commonwealth.

Cabin Is Intact After 125 Years

HARRISBURG, March 12.—A log cabin, 125 years old and in an excellent state of repair, was discovered recently in Sugar Valley, Clinton county, by Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, a member of the State Forest Commission.

Colonel Shoemaker purchased the log cabin and had it taken down and hauled on four two-horse sleds twelve miles across the mountains to his home at McElhattan, where it will be used as a garden house in a wild flower garden. Although the cabin was built in 1804, only two of the logs were found to be unfit for use in reconstruction. The logs are an extra large size and of clear white pine. The floor boards are of white oak and none of them less than twenty-four inches in width. The house was built by Jacob Embigh, an early pioneer from Berks county, whose descendants are still numerous throughout Sugar Valley.

HOOVER'S HOLD FIRST RECEPTION

Make Diplomats Leave Less Formal On Monday Afternoon

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover held their first formal reception Monday afternoon and started right off with an innovation.

They received the diplomatic corps at 4:30. Mr. Hoover stayed at his desk until the shiny limousines and the sword-wearing gold braided ambassadors and ministers, with their shaking hands in the Red Room and the White House entrance. Then he hurried in to formal clothes and went downstairs for the reception.

Instead of President and Mrs. Hoover standing in the Red Room and shaking hands with diplomats as they filed by, as has been the custom, the Hoovers arranged the diplomats and their wives in groups, according to rank, in the East room.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover walked from group to group, thus eliminating much of the stiff formality which has characterized such receptions in the past.

Friendly Canine Gets Into Wrong Company

This is no fish story. It is the story of a very lucky but very short sighted dog.

Charles Allen of Park avenue and a fellow scribe on The News, has a nice curly haired spaniel pup which has a habit of leaving his leash and strolling about town unsecured.

This particular day, which was last Friday to be exact, Mr. Dog took a walk through the cool winds of East Washington street.

Now, J. Wylie Brewster, state bureau of animal industry representative here, walked out of a store and started for his car which was parked across the street.

The pup, a friendly little chap, followed, and when Mr. Brewster opened the car door, the dog jumped in and made himself at home. The trick is that Mr. Brewster is the state dog catcher, and here was a very fine dog reversing the procedure and catching the catcher.

However, Mr. Brewster noted that no collar was attached and took the little fellow to his home near Mt. Jackson. Through inquiries through various canine channels he found that the dog belonged to Mr. Allen.

Scribe Allen has his dog today and everybody is happy.

Last Survivor Of Company K Dies

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 12.—Perry J. Nichols, 84, last survivor of Company K, Ninth New York Cavalry, the first Union soldier to capture a confederate prisoner at the battle of Gettysburg, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred C. Swart Lakewood. His wife, Mrs. Venora Bagley Nichols, and two sons survive him. He was a native of Bush, and enlisted in the Ninth Regiment August 14, 1862, serving until the close of the Civil War.

Still, a man sucker enough to marry a gold-digger would be trimmed by somebody else if he didn't pay alimony.

An Exceptional Opportunity for a Successful Man

A nationally known financial institution, founded in 1851 and having resources of over 125 million dollars, has an exceptional opportunity in New Castle to offer a successful man. Its reputation and its responsibilities to the public demand that it employ only the highest type of man; the possible compensation is sufficient to make the offer attractive.

No previous experience, other than general business experience, is necessary provided you are capable of handling a bigger job, want a more important place in this community, and desire a better-than-average measure of success.

If you are the right man, the company will invest time and money to establish you in the new connection. It will carefully train you for the work. You will also be assisted by careful and capable supervision, efficient service and national advertising. You will be backed by a company having an enviable record for developing men. But you MUST be a man of character and integrity, able to furnish the very best of references, energetic, alert, and aggressive.

This business offers stable, permanent employment. It is practically free from fluctuations which affect other businesses. The method of compensation itself acts as a stabilizer and guarantees yearly increases. In other words, after the training period, your income will be limited only by your own ability and industry. It will be determined automatically and impartially by what you accomplish.

If you feel that you can meet our qualifications and are between 28 and 40, preferably married and a college graduate, write us at once in strict confidence, giving full particulars about yourself. Should your letter indicate that a personal conference would be mutually beneficial, an appointment will be arranged.

Hope To Solve Bond Robbery

Canadian Officials Visit Pittsburgh To Check Up On Recovered Stolen Bonds

BONDS STOLEN FROM TORONTO MAIL TRAIN

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Canadian authorities today joined forces with local detectives in efforts to clear up the $125,000 Toronto mail robbery of last June 28 of which $80,000 in bonds were recovered here yesterday.

Alexander Gibson, Canadian postal inspector and Detective Sgt. Wilbur Daven, of the Toronto police arrived today and conferred with Inspector of Detectives Frank Boyd. They began a check up of bonds found yesterday in the automobile of Mannie Steinberg.

They planned to question Steinberg regarding possible knowledge of the whereabouts of William Boyer and Morris Zindel, sought as leaders of the gang of robbers.

Steinberg was held over by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Central police court today after Detective Thomas Morgan testified to recovering the stolen securities. Steinberg is alleged to have received $10,000 in bonds from Zindel.

In morals court Catherine Meyers and Harry Meyers, alias "Dopey Davis," arrested as suspects, were turned over to detectives for further questioning after which they will be released, according to detectives.

Valensi On Trial On Assault Charge

Girl Under Sixteen Years Of Age Tells Of Auto Trip To The Harbor

Joseph Valensi, charged with assaulting Florence Ritchie, a minor under the age of 16 years, was placed on trial before Judge Chambers this morning. Mrs. Mary Ritchie, mother of the girl is prosecutrix in the case.

It was claimed by Florence that she and Valensi both worked at the pottery and were thrown together frequently. Valensi got to calling at her home, and taking her out in his automobile.

On June 7th, 1928 Miss Ritchie said that Valensi came to her home in his car with another young man. A girl friend was to accompany them on a ride, but the girl was sick and could not go. Florence got into the machine and they started down town, going out Grant street where the young man got out.

Valensi, she said, then drove to the Harbor, turned at Bokert's store, and crossed the Harbor bridge. They proceeded about a quarter of a mile from the bridge when Valensi turned off on a side road and stopped the car. A detailed account of what happened was then given.

Former Vice President Returns Home With His Famous Pipe; To Resume Bank Chairmanship

Charles Gates Dawes and Mrs. Dawes on their arrival in Chicago.

By ROY J. GIBBONS Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Charles Gates Dawes, private citizen, is home. He stepped off a Washington, D. C., train with Mrs. Dawes, blew a cloud of smoke from his under-slung pipe at a group of waiting reporters, and spoke:

"Now don't think I'm hard," said he, and a grim smile twisted around his pipe stem, "but I don't want to say a word about politics."

The ex-vice president and his wife were obviously glad to get back to Chicago. General Dawes was eager to tell that he was going straight to the Central Trust company and assume again his old job as chairman of the board of directors.

"I'm going right back to my desk in the bank now and preside over a board meeting for the first time in four years," the former vice president said, as he left the station.

Again the smile, this time not grim. "Are you going to run for the United States senate?"

"Never." The Dawes eyes grew cold blue. "I'm leaving Chicago March 28 for Santo Domingo, where, at the request of the president of that country, I am leading a commission of my own choosing to advise them on finances," Dawes vouchsafed.

Although he did not say so, out and out, the former vice president conveyed the impression to his reporter-listeners that he is not through as a factor in national politics.

There was no time out for social palaver for General Dawes. He went directly to the bank, where the office of chairman of the board has been vacant, since he resigned to assume his vice presidential duties. There the board of directors went through the formality of re-electing him to his old job.

Then it was home to Evanston, a city abutting on Chicago to the north. The underslung pipe was still going strong as he walked up the steps of his large and imposing white residence, which is one of the show places of Evanston, famous for the number of its millionaire residents.

Maybe it was the odor of the pipe. Or perhaps it was just plain dog sense. Anyway, there was Mike, the general's yaller dog, yowling with joy one minute, whimpering with affection the next.

Charles Gates Dawes, private citizen, was home. And the very gladdest one to see him, if appearances are any criterion, was Mike.

And the general knocked out his underslung pipe in honor of the occasion and twinked Mike's ears.

From the entrance door appeared Adam Bickley, a large negro retainer.

"Welcome back, sir; welcome back, general," he chuckled.

"Potatoes" fled from the gambling rooms on the fourteenth floor of the Miami-Biltmore Hotel in the Florida resort just a few seconds after the reverberations of gun-fire had echoed through the elaborate building.

"Potatoes" is now said to be hiding in Chicago, where he is a known and accepted figure in all of the Windy City's underworld haunts.

"Potatoes," Walsh's pal declared, deserted Chicago a year ago and came to New York, where he became associated with the gang of Broadway racketeers captained by the late Arnold Rothstein. Consequently the Miami slaying is a direct outgrowth of the murder of Rothstein and not of the recent "Bugs Moran gang massacre" in Chicago, as had been supposed previously.

Announcement was made today by E. O. Hawk in charge of the temporary offices of the internal revenue department in the Lawrence Savings & Trust Co. building that the offices would be kept open on Thursday and Friday evenings to accommodate those who are late in filing their returns.

Friday will be the last day for filing returns and local residents who do not wish to pay a penalty, are warned to have their returns made by Friday evening.

The temporary offices will be closed after that date.

State Senate Passes Code

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, March 12.—The senate without a single dissenting vote today passed the new administrative code which sets up the legal procedure for the conduct of all state departments, boards and commissions. It now goes to the house.

The original draft was slightly altered in the senate judiciary general committee before being reported out.

Sixty young ladies and young men are expected to attend the affair which will start at 8 o'clock.

The committee in charge is composed of Joe Lockley, Francis Sage and Donald Williams.

No, there is no grim humor in the announcement that a funeral directors' convention is to follow a medical meeting in Savannah this spring.—The Savannah Morning News.

Rattlers Get Scarce, May Protect Them

HARRISBURG, March 12.—Catching rattlesnakes, like every other profession, is becoming crowded. Activity of professional hunters already has been noted in Pike county. This activity begins with the first warm days of spring. Perfection of the methods used has so depleted the Pike county annual crop that some residents are considering a petition to the Legislature to declare a closed season with the usual regulations. Taking of snakes with less than six rattlers is considered unsportsmanlike.

That summarizes a special report made to the Department of Forests and Waters by District Forester R. W. Stadden, of the Delaware Forest District.

Snaring rattlesnakes is not as hazardous as might first appear. Stadden reported. The snakes spend the winter in dens located among the many rock ledges of this section. They seem to prefer the ledges on southern slopes exposed to the sun. Also the snakes are commonly believed to enter and leave the dens through the same crevice. Zoological experts take advantage of this rattlesnake eccentricity and spend considerable time in early spring, locating these holes, before the snakes emerge. When the entrance is found, a short piece of three-inch pipe is driven into the opening and the adjacent crevices are blocked with loose rocks and dirt. A large burlap bag is then fastened to the end of the pipe. When the snakes emerge from the den they crawl through the pipe and fall into the burlap bag where they remain until collected. It is not unusual. Forester Stadden reported, to capture as many as fifty snakes from a single den.

Will Present Play At Westfield Grange

Yimmie Yonsons Yob to be presented at Westfield Grange hall, Thursday evening March 14.

The play will be the first of the series of plays to be given at Westfield this year. It has been given at Mahoning Valley and Big Beaver and was very well received. Yimmie Yonson's Yob is a little different type of play than has been given by Westfield lately. But the cast has proven themselves capable of taking the places of the members of this comical haunted farm home. And O what a rite!

This is the fourth year that Westfield has put on a series of plays. Last year the hall was well filled every night and from present indications it looks as if there would be more people taking advantage of the opportunity of seeing some good home talent plays this year than last!

Music will be furnished by the North Beaver orchestra.

Transporters Cars To Be Sold March 16

Four Machines Will Be Disposed Of By Mercer County
Sheriff

MERCER, Pa., March 12.—March 16 has been set by Sheriff D. K. Callahan as the date of sale of four cars taken from liquor transporters valued at $4000 that will be sold at public auction of this official in compliance with the law.

The money derived from the sale less the costs of conducting the auction will be turned over to the county treasurer. Two of the cars are located in Sharon, one each in Mercer and Greenville.

S. Hoffmeister was ordered by Judge J. A. McLaughry to make out a deed for a lot sold J. E. Denis in Pine township near Grove City. The defendant in the action was also instructed by the court to pay the costs in a suit brought in Mercer county court.

Denis claimed that he bought a lot from Hoffmeister in March of 1925 and was to pay $700 for it. Half the sum has been paid. He was willing to pay the remainder but alleges that Hoffmeister wants to give him deed for a different lot than that he had agreed to buy.

TRUSTEES TO MEET.

The trustees of the Presbyterian church will hold a meeting next Wednesday evening in the church parlors when preparations will be made for conducting the Every Member canvass of the church to take place very soon.

The congregation numbers over 500.

INVESTIGATES ARRESTS.

C. R. Miller an official of the Bureau of Investigation of the state highways is here making an inspection of the criminal court records.

Under the law each driver convicted while drunk loses his license for a year and if fined the money is turned over to the state. To check on both these items Mr. Miller tours the counties of northwestern Pennsylvania.

He states that a new act of legislature is now in consideration at Harrisburg that will make this offense punishable by a more drastic measure.

Broadway meeting places to the effect that many of the legit playhouses are to be "sold down the river" to the sound flicker manufacturers.
In fact declare those allegedly "in the know" 25 of the better class temples of amusement have negotiated with the film magnates and by next season it is feared, most of the theaters will have been wired and prepared to furnish "talkies."

ALL DEPENDS ON THE PLAY.

And in changing the subject let it be recorded herewith that "Old Man Slump" asserted himself along the Fourth Avenue Forties last week. Most of the second-rate plays started hollering Uncle again but the better shows enticed handsome trade. A good law for Mr. Whalen to make we think would be to arrest those sponsors of pieces that do not please the critics and thus lessen the congestion between 42nd and 59th streets. If Mr.
Whalen will communicate with this bureau a long list of second-rate play producers will be furnished. Better than that perhaps would be for Mr.
Whalen to inspect Mr. Leblang's chart of half-priced shows which is enough testimony to the number of poor pieces in the town.

HAW!
The New Yorker extends its professional sympathy to the editor of the New York Evening Journal in the matter of the little story he printed about the mayor of Hempstead L. I.

His Hempstead correspondent, the other day telephoned in the facts about a theft out there. The mayor had been attending a movie show and while in the theater his toupee was stolen. He was pretty indignant and was threatening to fire his whole police force if they didn't recover his property.

These facts were turned over to a writer in the office who made quite an amusing story of it—how his honor had suddenly turned out baldheaded and the audience had tittered. They were still chuckling about that story in the office the next day when the mayor of Hempstead himself telephoned indignant and demanding reparations and apologies. He wore his own hair he said, and was in fact proud of it.

What really had been stolen was his coupe.

AMONG OTHER THINGS.
Helen Morgan the actress is one of the very few charmers (if not the only one) who never wears jewelry. No necklace, ring, brooch or ornament decorates her person and when she was asked she said: "I used to wear a love affair, a cunning thing that I adored. There was no significance to it whatsoever. I was merely found of it—it was so different. I lost it a year ago."

She asserted too that countless friends and admirers frequently offer her a gift of jewelry but she warns them that she will sell it and invest the currency in bonds.

Miss Morgan it might be added is simply crummy with gold certificates or stock and other valuable papers.

New York Night Clubs Are Closing Up Fast

New York, March 12.—The bootleggers in this man's town are going back to the farm.

The nightclubs are drying up like a nineteenth century prune. Pretty soon, a fellow is liable to get something to eat there.

The speakeasies are in panic—the bartenders are so excited they are drinking their own liquor.

Five years imprisonment in a joint where the bars aren't mahogany—the penalty under the new Jones enforcement law—today hung over the

Rapp's Mill Bridge Now Under Repairs

Plan To Revamp Entire Structure; Has Already Been Closed To Traffic

County Engineer Thomas A. Gilkey announced today that the Rapp's Mill bridge near Ellwood City is closed to traffic at the present time.

The Harris Engineering company of Pittsburgh, contractors, have completed arrangements to move the old bridge off the present foundation, preparatory to building a new foundation and erection of new steel forms.

Most of the steel is at present at the bridge site ready for erection. As soon as the false work has been

Fire Insurance The Bulwark of Trade

THE volume of trade in the United States is estimated at more than 80 billion dollars annually. Probably 90 per cent of this is transacted on credit.

The underlying safeguard of this credit is Stock Fire Insurance, with more than $150,000,000,000 constantly at risk in the protection of burnable property in this country.

This background of $150,000,000,000 of protection against disaster makes commerce on its present gigantic scale possible.

Few indeed are the activities of the home or of business that are not benefited directly or indirectly by the stabilizing effect of Stock Fire Insurance and the security that it affords.

Stock Fire Insurance is the silent partner in every enterprise—the Bulwark of Trade. It has rendered its service at a cost which on the average has constantly declined for more than twenty years.

MOTHER SAYS IT MADE WONDERFUL CHANGE IN SON

Tells How Ten Herbs Ended His Stomach, Liver And Bowel Trouble.

"Ten Herbs certainly made a wonderful change in the health of my son, Louis, who is 23 years of age," was the recent statement of Mrs. Benjamin Schell, 1459 Isoline Street, Corliss Station, Pittsburgh, to the

MRS. BENJAMIN SCHELL

Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful new herbal medicine. "It ended his health troubles, and made him feel better in every way," Mrs. Schell continued.

"For the past year his health had been falling. Food did not digest properly, but would sour and ferment in his stomach. He belched a sour acid and particles of food. So much gas would form that he could hardly get his breath, and on several occasions this condition alarmed him. He was troubled with constipation, and this caused him to become bilious and have terrible headaches—sometimes he would have to go to bed. At night he was restless and did not get proper sleep. He was so nervous that I feared he was on the verge of having a nervous breakdown. Although he underwent several different treatments, he kept getting worse.

"I do not know what would have become of my son if we had not learned of Ten Herbs. Since taking your medicine, his appetite is better, and he is free of stomach trouble. There is no more gas or shortness of breath, and he no longer belches sour food. Constipation and biliousness have been ended, and he is rid of those terrible headaches. His nerves are quiet, he sleeps like a child. His eyes are brighter, and I notice a great difference in his actions, as he has more energy and ambition. We are pleased to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

Man Who Slept In Woods Almost Frozen To Death

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., March 12.—Found in an almost unconscious condition, a man whose name is given as William Babie was taken to the police station from the Hooley property on the Sunflower road where he was given first aid, hot coffee and a place by a gas fire in the cell room. Babie was found by Hooley as the latter was about his morning's work, the man evidently having laid out all night in a piece of woods on the Hooley place. Babie was in bad shape when found and was apparently near the freezing point. He came too after receiving help and was in a fair way to recover. How the man came to make his bed in the woods is not known and his recollection of events seemed dim.

Night Club Hostess Is Given Protection

Woman Who Saw Walsh Shot To Death In Hotel Fears For Life

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 12.—Further questioning of Demaris Dore, blonde friend of Thomas (Patty) Walsh, who says she saw Walsh shot to death in the Miami-Biltmore hotel, today resulted in the declaration by Commissioner Whelan that "the whole Rothstein crowd was in Miami at the time" excepting Hyman Biller who is wanted by New York police as the man who shot Rothstein.

Hysterical and in fear of her life, the once popular night club hostess and friend of Walsh begged for police protection, which was granted her.

George, writes Father, Near Hanover Crossing,
May 30, 1864.

Dear Papa:—
I received your letter of the 20th inst. last evening. I have been anxious to hear from you since leaving for Washington. I feel very much concerned about you. I think it would be advisable for you not to think of coming into the field again as you can never stand the campaigning again.
We have been marching and skirmishing almost every day since you left. We have had several men wounded and some killed but all the officers have escaped this far. We are now under orders to move at a moment's notice.
We had a terrible march on the 28th and night of the same, marching from 8 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock on the morning of the 29th. We did not march such a long distance but it was terrible the way it was conducted.

Dislike Crittenden.
I told the regiment commander what you said about the fight of the 6th. Lieutenant-Colonel Robinson, Third Maryland, now commanding the brigade immediately went over to division headquarters and stated the facts to General Crittenden and also to a correspondent of the Associated Press. The correspondent said that General Hancock said it was Col. Corbin's brigade that made the charge and saved the day. I do not think much of General Crittenden as a commander. He does not take any interest in the command at all, letting us find everything as best we can. It is awful the way things are conducted in our division. We can get nothing at all when the other command appears to be bountifully supplied.
We are within 15 miles of Richmond on the old Hanover road. The enemy is in our immediate front but with what force I cannot tell. I suppose there will be a heavy reconnaissance today to find out.

Organization Gone.
Joe and Lee Morrow are both sick. Joe is with Justice and Lee is back in a hospital, some place. Jeff's commission as major has come; also Doctor Taylor's and the rest in this corps. It is nothing but a big mob now, no organization, no nothing.
But I cannot give you any information in regard to the brigade or division now at length but will do so at the earliest moment. I wish you would write home to Mama when you receive this. I have made the attempt to write home two or three times but have always moved about the time I commenced.
I will go and have him write to you every few days and keep you posted as he remains with Justice still and can write at his desk without any trouble. I have not heard anything about John Cannon since the 12th. Where he is I do not know.
Love to all.
Your affectionate son,
GEORGE.

Resume North Street Bridge Construction

County Engineer Gilkey Estimates Span Will Be Completed By Middle Of June

John A. Byers company employees have resumed work on the last abutment for the new bridge which will span the Nashua creek from the North street side to Croton avenue. According to County Engineer T. A. Gilkey, the abutment should be completed in three or four weeks if continues. The Croton avenue abutment is already finished.
Following the completion of the last abutment work will immediately begin on the erection of steel forms. Engineer Gilkey said. He also estimated that providing everything goes along all right and the weather remains as at present for some time, traffic will be passing over the bridge by the middle of June.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are yellow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure. Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you. Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Keep them by their olive color. 10c, 50c, $1.00.

Daily
Lenten Devotion

Prepared by Rev. Clarence H. Wilson, D.D., for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America

Topic
"LENT AND MY CHURCH" Memory Verse for Tuesday
"Unto him be the glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages" (Ephesians 3:21). (Read: Ephesians 3.)
MEDITATION: I love my church because it is young. In visions and ideals it is always renewing its youth. It quotes history but when it speaks its own mind it is prophetic. It has a program and a goal. It makes promises for the future which is to be better than the past. It is going somewhere and its feet are ever light with the eagerness of youth. It is looking for something, for new light to break forth, for new advances toward the new heaven and the new earth where in dwelleth righteousness. So it tends to keep me hopeful and cheerful and in the high adventure of life, looking for a better word and working to bring it to pass.
PRAYER: O God who art from everlasting to everlasting, O Thou renew my youth that I fail not and be discouraged. Keep high purpose and great expectation alive in my heart while I put my trust in Thy exceeding great and precious promises. Amen.

Official Rules For Marble Tournament

Number four of the series of marble rules that The News is publishing in conjunction with the city-wide scholastic marble competition, being sponsored by the Ben Franklin High club is as follows:
Scoring
For each marble knocked out by a player, he shall be credited with a score of one.
For each time a player hits the shooter of an opponent, and does not knock it out of the ring, he shall be credited with the score of one.
For each time a player knocks an opponent's shooter out of the ring, he shall be credited with all the marbles previously scored by the hit opponent.
The player having credited to him the largest number of marbles at the completion of a game shall be the winner of that game.
In games where more than two players are engaged, if two or more players lead with the same score, those in the tie shall play a new game to break the tie.
A player refusing to continue a game, once it is started, shall be disqualified, and if only two players are engaged, the game shall be forfeited to the offended player.

The score of a forfeited game shall be 13-0.
Officials
The officials shall be a referee and a scorer. If a scorer is available, otherwise the referee shall also keep score.
The referee shall have complete charge of the play. He shall interpret these rules and have power to make decisions in any points not specifically covered by these rules. He shall have authority to disqualify players for unsportsmanlike conduct. He shall have authority to order from the playing field, or its vicinity, the coach or other representative of any player, who conducts himself improperly.
The scorer shall keep a record of the game, marking score of each player shot by shot, and at the termination of each game, shall notify the referee of the score, and the referee shall announce the winner. The scorer may assist the referee in enforcing the rule against coaching, and call to the attention of the referee any infraction of the rules.

OLIVE SHEA

Wins Praise

The quality of her acting as the Private Secretary in "The News Parade" is winning the praise of movie fans everywhere for this lovely newcomer to the screen. At home in New York City, hundreds admire her charming personality and she has fairly "set the style" on Broadway by the way she dresses her hair.
"The simple method I use in caring for my hair," says Miss Shea, "has been of great help to me in my motion picture work, where one's hair must always look its best. It's just the thing for busy girls, too, because it is so easy. Most of the girls I know in stage and picture work are taking it up as soon as they hear about it. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush every time you use it. It makes your hair so easy to dress and holds it in place wonderfully. It's ideal for girls who are letting their hair grow. It keeps my hair and scalp so clean and comfortable. I don't shampoo half so often now. It gives my hair such a silky, soft, lustrous appearance that all my friends comment on it."
Danderine removes the oily film from each strand of hair, restores its natural color, gives it more lustre than brilliancy. It cleanses and invigorates the scalp; helps overcome dandruff. It is delightfully fragrant; isn't sticky or oily; doesn't show waves, "set" with it, last longer. All drug stores have it, in generous 35c bottles.

No need to manually labor and fuss for hours over a roast or oven dinner any more.
The Westinghouse FLAVOR ZONE oven browns and cooks automatically—without the least attention.
Just put your dinner—roast and vegetables—in the oven, make two simple adjustments, and then forget it. Don't go near the oven—don't touch the roast—until dinner time.
No other range, either fuel or electric, can perform first the browning and then the cooking operation under full automatic control. No other range can give you such complete freedom from the kitchen.
Come in and let us demonstrate this new and better cookery. No obligation.

Segrave Sets New Speed Record, 231 Miles At Daytona

Famous English Automobile Racer Turns Car Over Track 231 Miles An Hour

Big Crowd Watches Breathlessly As Segrave Establishes New World's Record

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 12.—Major H. O. D. Segrave, England's champion automobile racing driver, Monday broke all world records for speed by driving his Golden Arrow 231 miles per hour on the beach here.

The official time in two runs was an average of 231.36 miles an hour, which greatly exceeded the record of 207.55 miles an hour established last year by Ray Keech of Philadelphia.

Segrave flashed by the grandstand, located in the dead center of the course, at a terrific clip. His golden torpedo-shaped machine sang as it roared along amid wild cheering from the 15,000 to 20,000 persons assembled along the course.

The British daredevil drove the nine mile course twice, first in a northerly direction, and then back to the south. This was done because, in order that the time be official, it must be made twice. The first four miles were utilized for getting up speed.

Segrave drove the mile in front of the grandstand on the northerly trip in 231.51 and on the return trip south made that mile in 231.21 for an average speed of 231.36 miles an hour and a new world record.

The great crowd of men, women and children, packed into the grandstand at the center of the course, and all along the beach were on the tip of expectancy as Segrave drove his powerful, stream-lined car up to the starting point.

"He's off!" came the cry as "The Golden Arrow" shot forward. There was a mighty roar of the motor, then a singing, buzzing sound as the Englishman came tearing up the long stretch of beach.

His car looked like small black spot from the grandstand. Nearer and nearer it came, in credible time. Before the spectators could hardly realize it he had traversed four miles and was upon them.

Typhoid Reaches New Low Record

HARRISBURG, March 12.—The January record for typhoid fever in Pennsylvania involving but 37 cases was the lowest for that month in the history of the department. Only one case, April, 1927, with 25, was lower.

The present record for February shows an incidence of 27 cases thus far. Based on this figure there is every indication that February will also be a record month for a low incidence in typhoid fever.

Methodists Meet At Clearfield, Pa.

Sessions Are Under Way

(International News Service) CLEARFIELD, Pa., March 12.—With more than 350 ministers in attendance and expected, in addition to hundreds of visitors, the sixty-first session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church opened its first sessions here today.

The sessions, which are to continue for a week, bring here delegates from the Altoona, Harrisburg, Sunbury and Williamsport districts as guests of the Trinity Church, assisted by Emmanuel and West Side Methodists.

Besides the regular conference sessions, which will be held morning, afternoon and evening each day of the week, there will be the thirty-fourth annual session of the laymen's association of the conference, special meetings for young people, missionary societies and other organizations within the conference.

Examinations of undergraduates, local preachers and candidates for orders was the first order of business, the rest of the morning being left free.

In the afternoon a conference of the Epworth League with dinner at the parish house and a "fellowship hour," was on the program.

Conference sessions open tonight.

Men's Bible Class To Have Dinner

Plans have been completed for the dinner to be given by the Men's Bible class of the First Christian Sunday school on Friday evening, March 15, at 6:30 in the church dining room.

G. S. Bennett, instructor in Bethany College will be the speaker. Mr. Bennett will speak on the subject "Archaeology and the Old Testament."

About one hundred men are expected to attend.

True Ivories Get Some New Members

Obligation Given To Class At Meeting On Saturday Night

By W. A. JOHNS (BETHXON.) Officers and members of Star of Wales Lodge, No. 60, True Ivories of America, held an interesting meeting on Saturday evening, March 9. In the absence of the president, Thomas Grey, through illness, the president's chair was filled by Henry T. Jones, past president of the lodge, and James J. Davies acted as vice president. New members received the obligations of the order, from the following team: Chairman Griffith Thomas, James J. Davies, Henry T. Jones, John Harvard, Thomas Thomas and Evan Hopkins. John Harvard, chairman of the sick committee, reported and said that one member, Henry H. Davies, had recovered and been able to resume his work.

Demonstrate Health At Slippery Rock

Two Day Health Demonstration At Slippery Rock Normal On March 13 And 14

The annual health education demonstration of the state teachers college at Slippery Rock will take place on March 13 and 14 in the normal gymnasium. On Thursday evening the time has been set aside for the entertainment of friends.

The work and program for the two day affair includes demonstrations of the various health activities from every class group enrolled in the school.

The health education faculty is composed of James M. Galager, N. K. Thompson, E. B. Cottrell, Kathryn Matheny, Elmita Compton, Katherine Allen and Ruth A. Campbell.

Measles Outbreak Reported At Peak

HARRISBURG, March 12.—According to reports made today by the bureau of communicable diseases to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, measles at the present time is registering the highest incidence in the communicable disease list.

This situation is a result of the outstanding number of cases occurring in January and February which at that time represented more cases than all the other contagious diseases combined.

It was indicated, however, that the present outbreak, as well as those occurring the first two months of this year, was highly localized and not general throughout the commonwealth.

Married On "Dare" Now Wants Divorce

Patrol Examines 9630 Auto Drivers

FREEDOM, Pa., March 12.—Alleging that she was married on a "dare," Mrs. Marion L. Brooks Bischoffberger, Jr. of Naples, Me., this week in Cumberland county superior court, Portland, Me., filed a petition for annulment of her marriage to Edward J. Bischoffberger, Jr. of Freedom, Pa. In her petition she says they were married at Bronsfield, September 12, 1927, when she was 19 years old; that the marriage was entered into as the result of a "dare" without any intention to contract a valid legal and continuing marriage contract, that the marriage has not been consummated, and that she is in doubt about the validity of the same.

The case will be heard at the March term of court sitting in Portland.

High Rating Given To Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, March 12.—Slippery Rock State Teachers college is now listed among the accredited teachers colleges of America. The committee of investigation appointed by the American Association of Teachers college sent its representative to Slippery Rock, Dr. Joseph Rosler of Fairmont, W. Va., in December, 1928, who visited the college to survey its organization and to determine whether or not it meets the requirements set forth by the association.

The result of Dr. Rosler's report to the association has just been recently announced. Slippery Rock State Teachers college not only meets the requirements which registers it as an accredited school but also meets the requirements of a class A college which is the highest class.

Proof of Dyes is in the dyeing!

Words won't dye a dress, or coat, or sweater. It takes real anilines to do that. That's why Diamond Dyes contain from three to five times more anilines than any other dye—by actual test.

It's the anilines in Diamond Dyes that do the work; that give the colors such brilliance; such depth and permanence. It's real aniline that keeps them from giving things that red-dyed look; from spotting or streaking.

Next time you have dyeing to do, try Diamond Dyes. Then compare results. See how soft, bright, new-looking the colors are. Observe how they keep their brilliance. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. When you buy—remember this. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Watch Your Safety On Public Highway

"A man the other day was trying to turn out his income tax while crossing the street. He is now lying in his hospital and his physician's bill will be—considerable. That he used the wrong place to turn out his income tax is a pity. But he is now fully appreciated by Dr. Theodore M. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today."

"The point to this story lies in the fact, that whether in the city or the country, it is very definitely one's business to watch one's step when using a highway for pedestrian purposes."

"The annual number of mature persons who are injured or killed by being struck by automobiles is extremely high. And while carelessness on the part of the operator of the machine in many instances is a direct contributory cause, it is just as frequently happens that the major blame can be placed upon the thoughtlessness and inattention of the pedestrian."

"The world is a wonderful place in which to live. And it is exceedingly foolish therefore to be deprived of that joy simply because one does not have his mind on the business of the moment—which, when applied to individuals walking on street crossings, or using highways to walk upon, involves the necessity of complying with a few common sense rules. These are:

1. Do not romance.
2. Do not jay-walk.
3. Carefully obey traffic lights.

GRANDFATHER'S TONGUE IS LONG

"Blub, prump!" gurgled the small frog, so surprised at his father's words that he tumbled over a stone into the water without meaning to at all. But up he bobbed in a half a second and picked out for himself a soft seat upon a lily-pod.

"Oh, dear, that doesn't sound as if it would be a bit of fun," sighed he. "Who wants to lie buried in slimy mud for a whole winter?"

Then the small frog thought of something and became his own cheerful little self again.

"Kerplump! Kerplump! How glad I am that grandfather woke us up," shrilled he. "I can't bear to sleep another wink until it comes time to go to bed on the bottom of the pool. But say, father, if we are buried how do we breathe?"

By this time the boy had reached the bank of the pool and was not enough to catch the puzzled expression on Papa Bullfrog's face. That fat fellow opened his mouth as wide as it would go, as if he was trying to suck in an answer from the air.

"Well, now, let me think, son," said he, tapping what the boy supposed was his forehead with his foot, and Peter nearly laughed out loud to see him; the frog had almost tied himself into a knot to do it. "It seems to me that I have heard—"

"Of course you have," croaked a hoarse voice that the boy knew at once belonged to the grandfather of the frog family.

"You will be saying next that you have forgotten how we drink, and you know just as well as I do that we frogs take in the water through the pores in our bodies. Why if we tried to swallow the water we probably would choke to death. We use our mouths for more important things—beetles, for instance, Yum, yum! That fellow tasted good!"

The old frog had struck out a long, slimy tongue and Peter, with his very own eyes, had seen a water beetle spinning over the top of the pool suddenly glued to the tip of grandfather's tongue and, struggling, drawn into the frog's mouth.

Now the captor was making a queer noise that sounded very much as if he was smacking his lips over the choice morsel. Grandfather however, continued quite as if nothing had happened.

"And as for how we breathe, I dare say we do it in the same manner—through our bodies—and if that is not as good a way as any I should like to have anyone say so! I would catch the slimy fellow with my tongue, that I would!"

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 31.

The period for filing income tax returns made on the basis of the calendar year 1928 ends at midnight March 15, 1929. When by reason of illness or absence from home additional time is required, an application for an extension should be addressed to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer files his returns, together with a full recital for the causes for the delay. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no extension may be granted for more than six months. The request must be made before the return is due.

American citizens residing or traveling abroad, including persons in the military or naval service on duty outside the United States, are granted, without the necessity of filing a request, an extension up to and including the 15th day of the sixth month following the close of the taxable year.

June 15 if the return is filed on a calendar year basis.

An extension of time for filing returns does not extend the time for payment of the tax or any installment thereof, unless so specified in the extension. The commissioner of internal revenue may extend the time of payment of the amount determined as the tax by the taxpayer, or any installment thereof, for a period not to exceed six months from the prescribed date.

1929 STEWARTS

---are the talk of all truckdom

Automotive engineers, truck experts, truck dealers, truck users are hailing the 1929 Stewart as the finest Stewart of them all, by far "America's Greatest Truck Value."

Stewart owners do not figure depreciation on a 2 or 3 year basis. They know by experience that the average life of a Stewart is 5 years or more. There are thousands of 4, 6, 8, 10 and even 12 year old Stewarts in service in more than 600 American cities and 56 foreign countries.

Finer, more beautiful, more powerful, more rugged, the new Stewart stands at the top of all truckdom. Low profit per unit spells greater value than ever before to the Stewart buyer.

Stewart Sales Reach New Mark

Stewart sales in 1926 were 41% greater than in 1925. 1927 beat 1926 by 43.7% and now 1928 sales eclipsed them all with a 53% gain over 1927. Learn why! Catalogs gladly mailed upon request.

and rejuvenated. In three weeks all my ill has vanished, and then I could appreciate the happiness of others whose sufferings of Konjola guided me to this wonderful remedy.

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa., at Loe & Morgun drug store, 224 East Washington street, and by all the best druggists in all towns through this entire section.

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough In a Hurry

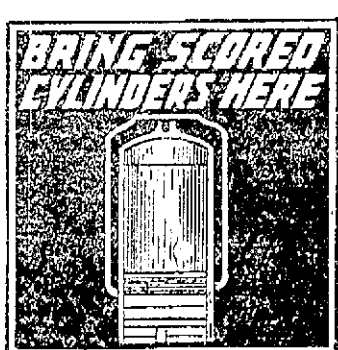

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to get rid of the trouble.

For these purposes there is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Put this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes away the inflammation. At the same time it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of natural Newbery Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchitis.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

The Story Of American Industry
Lumber—(Part One)—Logging

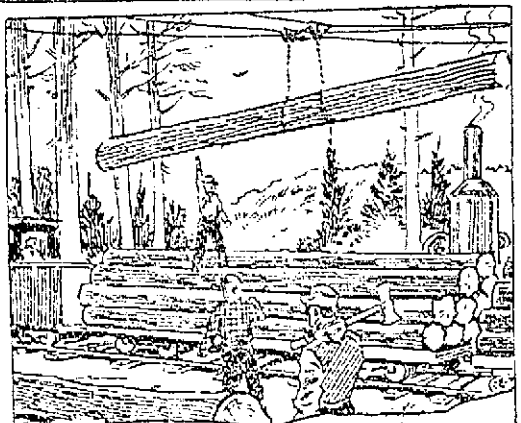

LOGGING IS ONE OF THE LEADING AMERICAN INDUSTRIES WHOSE METHODS AND GENERAL FEATURES HAVE CHANGED SLIGHTLY SINCE THE DAYS OF THE FIRST SETTLERS. THE WORK OF A "LUMBER JACK" HAS ALWAYS BEEN, AND STILL IS, HARD AND HAZARDOUS.

DEEP IN THE FORESTS THE EXPERT CUTTERS FELL THE GREAT TREES WITH THE AXE OR WITH A SAW AND WEDGES. OTHER MEN TRIM THE FALLEN GIANT OF ITS BRANCHES. THE LOG IS THEN "SKINNED" (DRAGGED ALONG THE GROUND) TO THE LOGGING ROAD BY HORSES OR BY CABLES RUN FROM A STEAM ENGINE.

METHODS OF HAULING LOGS TO THE SAWMILL VARY IN DIFFERENT LOCALITIES. IN THE NORTHERN FORESTS THE HAULING IS DONE IN WINTER WHEN THE HARD-PAKED SNOW MAKES IT POSSIBLE TO TRANSPORT PRODIGIOUS LOADS OF LOGS ON SLEDGES DRAWN BY SEVERAL PAIRS OF HORSES.

IN THE SOUTHERN FORESTS LOGGING GOES ON ALL YEAR ROUND. IN THE SOUTH AND IN THE GREAT LUMBER REGIONS OF THE PACIFIC COASTS LOGGING RAILWAYS ARE GENERALLY USED TO HAUL THE LOGS TO THE SAWMILL. STEAM "SKIDDERS" LOAD THE LOGS ON FLAT CARS.

Central Christians Win Church League Title

Basketball Loop Ends On Monday

Central Christians Complete Season Without Defeat In Church League

TEMPLE ISRAELS IN SECOND PLACE

The Central Christian church basketball team, in the sixth annual church league, won the title on Monday night by defeating Temple Israel 19 to 17. The Christians won 19 games and lost none. The Christians also won the title in 1927-28. In two years of church league competition the Christians have won 38 games and lost none. The record compiled by the local team is believed to be a new record.

With a new group of players including Shook, Pardini, E. Bauman, A. Bauman, Harris, Coward, Martin, M. Thomas, L. Smith, Neyman and Jenkins, the Christians can well be proud of their achievement. The Christians proved to be one of the most popular teams in the circuit.

Temple Israel, who have the Christians' fiercest competition, finished second with eight victories and one defeat in the second half, and also finished second in the first half. The Third U. P. team also have the Christians and Temple Israel plenty of tough games.

The Central team went through the entire season without a defeat. In nine games the Christians failed to register a victory. The Baptists and Methodist M. E. were tied for fourth place with five and four as their record. The Wesley M. E. team finished in a tie with the First M. E. and Central Presbyterians for fifth place, and the Highland U. P. team drew up in sixth position.

The league this year was a big success, and reflects credit on the officials in charge of the league. Henry MacNicholas, assistant physical director of the Y. M. C. A., acted as supervisor of the league and did a fine job. There were no serious disputes during the year.

The final standing of the league for second half.

Two Games In Church League; Season Ended

Temple Israel Defeat Wesley M. E. And First M. E. Team Tops Third U. P.

Two games were played in the New Castle Church League at the Y. M. C. A. court on Monday night. The season was ended last evening. The Central Christians and the new champions, the Christians won nine and were undefeated in the second half, likewise the first half.

The Temple Israel team scored on the Wesley M. E. team 18 to 16 in an interesting contest. The score at half time favored the Temples 7 to 4.

The playing of Reed, J. Fabian, E. Solomon, David and S. Levin featured the game. The First M. E. team with a patched up lineup had things their own way in the second game of the evening. The score was 20 to 13. Urie and McClelland of the Lincoln played with the First Methodists and talked each basket. McVior and Eckert also played good basketball.

The summaries:

Mike Dundee stopped Jose Gonzales in the second round at Youngstown last night. He landed only two blows in the first and Gonzales was dragged to his corner and the towel tossed in.

Maxie Brown fought last night in the same ring and scored a knockout. He put over the dream kiss on Roy Ritz in one round. Maxie is listed to box Nick Polis here Monday night.

Mickey Dugan dropped a decision to Midget Mike O'Dowd in 10 rounds at Wheeling. Dugan was floored in the first and fourth rounds. Dugan fought the main bout.

Nine Teams Are Now Entered In "Y." Tournament

Walter Kirker Reveals Nine Teams Have So Far Entered Sectional Tourney

WILL BE OPENED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Nine teams have so far sent in entry blanks to the New Castle Y. M. C. A. for places in the sectional championship tournament to be held in this city on Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16. It is expected that about 12 or 13 teams will be in the field by the end of the week.

The following teams are entered: Clearfield, DuBois, Altoona, Juniata, Hilltop of Pittsburgh, Sharpburg, East Liberty, Johnstown and New Castle. It is expected that Oil City and Butler will send teams, also Erie, Altoona and Juniata are representing the Mountain region.

According to Kirker today, the arrangements for the tourney are about completed. New equipment is being purchased and everything put in readiness for the biggest tourney of its kind ever held in New Castle.

J. M. Rick Motor Company has donated several automobiles to help transport the various teams to the playing floors at senior and George Washington junior high. The theaters of New Castle are making a special price to the visiting Y. M. C. A. boys.

The tourney will no doubt attract quite a large crowd at all of the games. The tournament opens on Friday afternoon and continues through Saturday night when a sectional championship will have been determined.

Babe Ruth's Contract Will Be For One Year

NEW YORK, March 12.—Babe Ruth will be tendered a 1930 contract calling for somewhat less than the $100,000 he has set in his advance leg-pulling. He will be tendered a contract for one year only, with an option of renewal. He will be asked to refrain from playing the film racket, either during the season or before it, for reasons which will become obvious in matters of about 10 seconds flat.

Ruth had a bad case of kleig eyes the last time he went for the movie business in a big way.

That this is the program being entertained for Ruth's benefit by the New York club is vouchsafed on rather good authority today.

That Ruth almost went blind in Hollywood from kleig eyes in 1926 is undenied fact. He was confined to a darkened room and the strictest secrecy about the matter was maintained, as it is to this day. For Ruth was about to come East to negotiate for the $70,000 contract he now holds, and any suggestion that Ruth's eyesight had been impaired, even temporarily, would have been fatal.

As it was, the ball club had no suspicion of the circumstances until long after the existing contract with Ruth was signed. It means to use this suspicion to chivy Ruth into line on outside interests in general when negotiations for 1930 are opened.

Everything, of course, hangs by the gamut thread that is to be woven by the developments of this season. If Ruth has a great year, as he is very likely to have with $100,000 coming up for personal inspection, he will be in a position to dictate, not the Yankee ball club. In such an event the club probably will weaken on the money and try to make its stand on two points: no second year for the document, except at its own option; no movies.

If Ruth, now 35 and an obvious blow himself to an ordinary season, the ante quite possibly will remain at $70,000, with the other considerations pressed home by way of emphasis and for good measure. If he has a bad year, Babe Ruth is likely to have a definite holdout for the first time, for the money won't be there.

Perotta Is Fit After Long Training Siege

Local Middleweight Has Chance To Place Himself Back In Hall Of Fame; Webster, Seasoned Fighter, Has Good Record; Brown To Test Colored Ghost; Other Boxers Anxious To Win So They Will Be "Set" For Summer Season; Other Notes Concerning Fistic Favorites Here

By ED. FRITZ

Several thousand fans played "second" to George Perotta, local middleweight, when he fought Floyd Hybert to a "dead heat" at the Jolly Bowl several weeks ago, and the same several thousand will return next Monday night to see Perotta battle Al Webster, wildcat of Montana, in a 10-round bout. It will be Perotta's second fight since he commenced a comeback.

Hybert, one of the toughest 155-pounders in the game, found George a willing puncher, stout-hearted and eager to fight, and in Webster Perotta will discover a boy who has been fighting long enough to know every trick in the game, a puncher and a pugilist who has met practically every topnotcher in the game. Should Perotta eke out a victory he will have rehabilitated himself in his class.

LOCAL BOY HAS KEPT HIS HEAD

Several months ago Perotta shook the lethargy from his browns, dusted bright lights from his itinerary and bled into training. When he stepped out against Hybert, the fans saw what early to bed, early to arise, plus hard training accomplished. However, George showed a lack of balance and tired near the end of the fight, but he kept carrying on and the judges awarded him a draw.

Many fighters would have loaded a couple of weeks before returning to the grind of the gymnasium, but not Perotta. He losted one day, then tied to the grind and has been at it daily since he fought Floyd. As a result he is now in splendid condition and should be able to step through 10 rounds like a grasshopper when the night arrives for his bout with Webster.

SOMETHING ABOUT THIS WESTERNER

The victor, Webster, has been fighting for some time and included among his opponents in the past have been such well-known celebrities as Dave Shade, George Courtney, Bob Sage, Phil Krug, Joe Anderson, Warren Smith, Youngstown Jimmie Jones and a raft of other fighters who are prominent in western rings. He has never been as much as knocked off his feet, according to his record.

According to T. S. Andrews Sporting Annual, Webster stopped the great Walcott Langford May 17, 1928, in a bout at Winnipeg, Canada. In the same year he lost a decision to Dave Shade, the great Californian. He has boxed George Courtney, Vincent Forjone, Babe McCortney and a lot of other fighters who are known to eastern fans and surely must have something in his make-up to pile up such a record.

SAMMY HARRIS IS VERY GOOD BOXER

Segrave Wins Large Pension

To Get $5,000 Yearly While Record Made Monday "Stands"

LONDON, March 12.—As long as Maj. H. O. D. Segrave holds the auto speed record he set Monday in Florida he will receive a pension of 1,000 pounds (about $5,000 a year).

It will be paid by Sir Charles Wakefield former lord mayor of London. Maj. Segrave's principal backer. He donated the Wakefield cup won by Maj. Segrave.

The British automobile and racing world is proud of the achievement of Maj. Segrave but none is as proud as his father Charles Segrave.

Where most of them are glad that the record has come back to Great Britain the elder Segrave has additional pleasure in the knowledge that it was his famous son who brought it back.

Sir Charles Wakefield expressed the general British opinion: "Not only do we now hold the world speed record on land but I have every confidence that Maj. Segrave with Miss England will win for England the blue ribbon of motor boat racing."

"Frankly today is the proudest day of my life a day toward which I have tried to work for many years."

Braddock Wins From Slattery

NEW YORK, March 12.—James J. Braddock wrote his name in large letters across the record of ring achievement when he brought the brilliant Jimmy Slattery flustering to the canvas in the ninth round of a sea-saw battle at Madison Square Garden.

A newly discovered and effective method of left-hand sniping, coupled with heavy cannonading with the right, enabled the Jersey light heavyweight to offset the cleverness of the Buffalo sharpshooter and brought victory to him suddenly after Slattery, a 3 to 1 favorite had pecked his way to a commanding lead.

A left hand that sank deep in Slattery's midriff 50 seconds before the bell ended the seventh round, superior condition and endurance and a right that nailed the Buffalo Adonis on the chin as he rebounded from the ropes at the end of the eighth round, were the factors that carried Braddock to the heights of a sensational victory over Slattery.

Seeking Eighth Team For Berth In County Loop

Seven Teams Already Hold Franchises In Lawrence County League; Meet Monday

OFFICER LIST IS RE-ELECTED

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Seven teams now hold franchises in the newly created Lawrence county league. A meeting was held in the Sporting Goods store on Monday night and it was an enthusiastic group of men that discussed the coming baseball season.

It is hoped that a good fast eighth team can be secured for the league. Ellwood City, Clifton Flats, South Hills and Bessemer appear to be in the running for the eighth place. The league this year will be extremely fast.

Two teams were voted into the league last night, the Italian A. A. and Pennsylvania railroad. The franchise money was increased to $50 per team. This is an increase of $25 over last year. The raise was made to keep the league intact.

The league managers voted to play their schedule on daylight savings time in accordance with the plans made by the various industrial plants of the city.

Officials Re-elected.

The umpire-in-chief this year will receive $2.50 for his services. The base umpire will receive $2 for his services.

The entire official list that held reign over the Twilight league last year was re-elected to office for the 1929 Lawrence county circuit. William "Bill" Andrews was named president, Alie Samuels as vice president, Eddie Conner secretary and treasurer, Judge James A. Chambers, Louis "Pick" Gilch and Charles "Bugs" Walther as commissioners.

A motion was made and adopted by the league managers and officials that all protests to the commissioners be accompanied by a $5 note, and if the protest is refused the club protesting loses the money. This motion tends to lessen the number of protests that arise every year, and which in the past have proven very bothersome to the league moguls.

It was also voted upon to fine any manager in the league who is guilty of paying any of his players while signed to a Lawrence county league contract. The fine will be $10.

Another meeting of the league will be in two weeks to complete plans for the coming season. The league will likely start in May.

The New Wilmington-Union contest was one which was scheduled for the first of this season, but which was postponed at that time until later in the season.

Business College Quintet To Play Shenango High

New Castle Business College Quintet Will Play At Shenango High Tonight

The New Castle Business College basketball team will play a "Boxer Day" game at Shenango High tonight. The first game of the series between the Business College and Shenango High resulted in a 23 to 21 score, with the Shenango High team ahead.

The Business College quintet is confident of evening up the series tonight. The addition of Suber makes the Business College team stronger. The New Castle Business College team will lineup as follows: Drake, Suber or Babosky at the forwards; Spencer; center; Goodhart and Miller, guards.

The College players will meet at the Spencer Paint and Glass company on South Mercer street at 7 o'clock tonight to make the trip to Shenango High.

Falcons To Play Indies Tonight

The Polish Falcons will play the New Wilmington Indies this evening at the Falcon court. The game will start at 8 o'clock. The Falcons have Thursday of this week open for a game. Call 2879-R between 6 and 7 p. m. and ask for Walker Duick.

Delahunty-O'Donovan Leading Scorers On Westminster Quintet

Skats' Delahunty Leads Team In Season Record With 134 Points; Crowell Second

Glen "Babe" O'Donovan Leads With 50 Points In Conference; Delahunty And T. Lewis High

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 12.—Kenneth "Skats" Delahunty again leads Coach John Lawther's Westminster college players in points scored with 57 field goals and 20 fouls or a total of 134 points for the season. "Bill" Crowell, lanky center, is second with 41 field goals and 24 fouls of 106 points.

For those who understand that team play has been the outstanding feature of Westminster court teams for the last three years, it will be interesting to note that Delahunty, Crowell, Tudor Lewis and O'Donovan are all high in scoring.

The summary for the 17 games played this season, 15 of which were won by the United Presbyterians follows:

	G.	Gls.	Pts.	Tot.
Delahunty	17	57	26-43	194
Crowell	17	41	24-43	195
Lawrence	17	15	41-78	99
O'Donovan	17	35	18-35	90

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH, SMOKE CIGARS

CIGAR SMOKE IS NON-IRRITATING TO THE NOSE AND THROAT... in the opinion of DOCTOR C. STANFORD READ World Famous English Physician

"Popular opinion and scientific knowledge are not always in accord. The cigar is usually looked upon as a strong form of smoking and yet it contains much less nicotine than a cigarette. There is, however, good reason for believing that other products of tobacco smoke are more harmful than nicotine. The commonest of these, an Aldehyde known as Formal, is responsible for the irritating effect on the mucous membrane of the naso-pharynx. This is always present in the smoke of the low-priced and popular American cigarette, while it is practically absent from cigar smoke."

Cincinnati Reds To Fight For Pennant, Hendricks Asserts

With Improved Ball Club Red Birds Hope To Give Cubs And Pirates
Stiff Fight

Bank On Four Fine Pitchers
To Carry Burden; Injuries
Last Year Crippled Chances

JAMES L. KILGALLIN

ORLANDO, Fla., March 12.—Jack Hendricks, silver-haired manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said today in an interview that he expects the Red Legs will be a team to watch in the pennant race. He thinks injuries beat his team out of the flag last season and he likes his club's chances of winning the 1929 bunting.

He believes the Chicago Cubs will be the team he will have to beat to win the pennant. He said the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates are sure to be dangerous contenders but he does not think so much of St. Louis, last year's pennant winners.

"I am still experimenting," said Hendricks, "but I expect to line my infield up in this manner: Val Piccinini at first; George Kelly will play first base; Hughie Critz, second; Horace Ford, shortstop; and Chuck Dressen, third base.

"I like my infield. That second base combination is great. We made the record of 194 double plays last year.

"My outfield is a question. I probably will start Curt Walker in right; Ethan Allen in center and Everett Pardy in left. I have other good outfield material in Shaner, Callaghan, Zimann, Crabtree, Hill and Swanson. Any one of these youngsters may come through in a big way. Swanson and Crabtree look very good."

Hendricks said that Dressen, whom he is banking on for third base, is a holdout. However, Dressen fails to sign up, Jack declared he has a first class man to fill that post in Walter Lutzke, who played that position for five years with the Cleveland Indians.

Four Good Pitchers.
"I always seem to have a great pitching staff," said Hendricks, "and I think I will have a grand array of flingers this year. My big four will be Lique, Lucas, Kolp and Rixey. And if Donohue is right, and I think he is, I will have five great pitchers. Donohue suffered a severe attack of flu last year and wasn't himself. If Donohue comes through we will make it awfully tough for every club in the league.

"Jackie May, a great little southpaw, was sick most of last year as a result of an operation. He is all right now. That adds even more strength. Besides I have a few good youngsters. Kenneth Ash did very well with Columbus last year and should help us. Paul Zahner, whom we bought from St. Paul, is an old hand. He was formerly with the Red Sox. Ash, Johnson, McCoy and Pyle are promising young pitchers, any one of whom may come through in fine style. I'm not worrying about my pitching staff."

Got Tough Breaks.
"I think we would have won the flag last year had it not been for tough breaks in the way of injuries. We were in first place up to June 21. We were still in second on August 15. But we had hard luck. Lucas broke an arm on May 27 after he had won seven straight games. On May 31 Lique had his tonsils removed and was out of the game for a long time. On the same day Allen had his jaw broken in an exhibition game. All this happened while we were in first place. On August 25 Walker, our star outfielder, suffered a fractured skull by a thrown ball. To cap the climax Donohue developed neuritis."

Ross Hendricks is a good ball player and may considerably strengthen the Chicago Cubs to the point where they will be hard to beat but Hendricks is a detriment to any club. To quote Hendricks. He remarked that Hornsby was released after he had managed the Cardinals to a pennant. That Manager John McGraw of the Giants had him and was willing to let him go and that Boston did not want Hornsby after he had managed that club for a season.

"I was offered Hornsby for Critz," McGraw said. "I would not have him," said Hendricks. "Hornsby is a great hitter but he can not run bases and he is not improving as an infielder."

Acts That Were Allowed Score Years Ago Missing Today

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, March 12.—How do the pitchers of today compare with those of the day when a pitcher was given almost every privilege except shooting the batter before delivering the ball?

In the hot stove leagues of every district that is probably the most popular subject for debate with the old timers pointing to Babe Waddell, Addie Joss, Three-fingered Brown and other satellites of a decade or two ago and the younger generation telling what Herb Pennock, Lefty Grove, Jess Haines, Vance and other present day stars could do if the rules reverted back to that time.

Waddell, with his great speed, was undoubtedly aided by being allowed to discolor the ball, use emery, scuff the surface and numerous other tricks.

Led In Strikeouts.
Grove, with probably equal speed of Waddell, led the American league in strikeouts last season and with the same privileges that Waddell enjoyed in his balm days possibly could have raised his strikeout record by 50 per cent.

Herb Pennock, as crafty a pitcher as any taking the mound nowadays, would be greatly aided if allowed to use subterfuges of 20 years ago in fooling batsmen.

After a deadlock on this question the discussion turns to batters. How much better today would the old time clouters be with pitchers performing on the level, the lively ball and other benefits the batter now enjoys.

It's A Great Game.
When Willie Keeler was electrifying the major leagues by pushing the old slow ball just over the infield, a batting average of .275 was considered pretty good hitting.

Today a man with that average would hardly be allowed to be in the same room where a contract was being signed, unless he was a pitcher. After going through all the sluggers from Dan Brubachers, Anson, Sunday, Wagner and Cobb to Ruth and Hornsby a decision is reached that what's the difference.

It's a pretty good game yet and was 20 years ago.

Tilden's Conquerer

By QUINN HALL
Always considered as one of our most promising young tennis players, Johnny Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., rated as No. 6 last year, bounced into heavy prominence last month when he defeated Frank Hunter, No. 2, and followed with a spectacular win over William Tilden, 2nd, just after the first ranking player of the country had been reinstated by the governing tennis body.

Following his win over Tilden, Van Ryn paired up with Gilbert Hall to beat Tilden and Hunter in the doubles finals at the invitation tournament of the Brooklyn Heights Casino.

In other words, during the few days of his tournament, the Orange, N. J., star placed himself in a position where he cannot be overlooked in the 1929 tennis world.

Tilden, they say, lacked practice. He was undoubtedly a trifle rusty from his enforced lay-off, but young Van Ryn's change of pace and his variety of shots had the old master guessing throughout. Under the circumstances, one cannot take the result of this match alone and tab Tilden as being through. That would be an injustice. Tilden is still a marvelous player, but he's rather past the age where he can hope to attain new heights and the performance of Van Ryn marks the youngster as a competitor who will be difficult to sidetrack.

Last summer, Van Ryn played a well-rounded game but it was hardly one which could be referred to as invincible. Four months spent in California made a remarkable improvement in his play. Now he is so far as to say he has improved 30 per cent and he has developed two very important things. He has learned how to play the net and it is apparent that he has spent considerable time practicing the half volley. It is evident

Baseball Teams In 'Big Show' Prepare For Season

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 12.—Third base apparently is still worrying Donnie Bush, manager of the Pirates in training here. He is experimenting now with Sparky Adams at the hot corner. Adams is a second baseman. Pie Traynor has been moved to short in place of Glenn Wright, who went to the Robins in trade for Pitcher Jess Petty. Jimmy Stroner, rookie, was slated for that job but because of an operation hasn't shown any too well as yet. Dick Bartell also has been used there and can "do in a pinch," Bush says.

FT. MYERS, Fla., March 12.—The A's play the Cincinnati Reds here again today. Tomorrow they rest, then meet the Phils Thursday as a start on a long series of exhibition games. Stiff and sore from the bus ride to Miami the A's rested yesterday. Bill Breckenridge, former Dartmouth Collegian, still appears to be the best of the 1929 rookie hurlers.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 12.—The Phils of 1929 appear to be destined to land something better than the cellar position in the National League. The squad reveals unusual pep and every man seems interested in giving Earl Shotton his best. The pitchers still are Shotton's chief worry for unless he can find a good pitcher or two among the rookies the Phils will not be much better off this season.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12.—The New York Yankees went to Tampa today to play their first exhibition game of the season, with the Tampa State Leaguers furnishing the opposition.
